Displays at Forsyth Park Praised by Spectators: Fewer Exhibits Than Before the War

According to the estimates of Farm Bureau officials, approximately 8,000 enjoyed the Ulster County Fair yesterday in Forsyth Park, where the displays of vegetables, fruit, poultry and cattle, although less numerous, were on a par with prewar years.

Judging from the great turnout, there were many who during the war years missed the great county feature, one of the events stricken from the calendar because of traveling restrictions and the strain put on growers and cattle raisers by the help shortage while farmers went to serve their country in the armed forces.

Mingled with remarks of praise concerning the fair, there were those lamenting the one-day duration, which has been the policy for the past 15 years or so. Previously the Ulster County Fair ran for four days on the spacious Ellen-ville fairgrounds.

Those were the days of coaching parades, horse racing, visits by the governor or debates by well known men and a big "midway" when attendance on some occasions was estimated as high as 15,000.

In addition to the large exhibition building various classes of exhibits, such as fruit, vegetables, poultry, filled large separate tents. There was a large horse barn, and

Ukraine Warns of Balkans Becoming Powderkeg Again

Says Declaration Made

Endanger the Peace of the World

Paris, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Ukraine warned the Peace Conference today that "once more the Balkans may become the powderkeg of Europe" and threaten world peace.

Taking the side of Albania, against Greece, in the airing of Balkan quarrels before a plenary session of the conference, Dimitri Maniatis, chief of the Ukrainian delegation, declared:

"We now see how the declaration made here by Greece really can endanger the peace of the world. We know how wars have been prepared."

Eastern Tractor Has Layoff Due To Material Lack

St. James Street Firm
Unable to Predict
Length of Halt
in Production

Eastern Tractor Company of 36 St. James street, employing approximately 80 persons at the present time, today announced a temporary partial curtailment of production due to lack of materials.

J. J. Carroll, president of Eastern Tractor, in announcing the curtailment would become effective today, said it would affect about half of the company's 80 employees. He said he was unable to predict definitely how long the layoff would last but was of the opinion it would be of relatively short duration.

Lack of wheels for the tractors is the principal reason for the move, Mr. Carroll said. He pointed out that the wheel shortage has been in short supply for some months and dwindling stock piles have finally forced curtailment in production.

Mr. Carroll expressed confidence that full production at an accelerated rate would be resumed as soon as the shortage ceases. He pointed to the capacity of the steel

Non-Residential Building Will Be Cut, Says Wyatt

More Materials Must Be Found to Permit Completion on Homes
Started

By STERLING F. GREEN
Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—W. son W. Wyatt today prescribed a transfusion of new materials for his languishing housing campaign.

Non-residential building will be the donor. The housing expediter proposes to cut the construction of stores, factories, schools and public works by 30 to 50 per cent below present levels, his aides reported unofficially.

Without naming any figure, Wyatt tipped off his plans last night by announcing that "tough action," embodied in a "series of sweeping steps," will be taken this month.

"Non-residential construction cannot be permitted to continue diverting the present volume of materials from veterans' housing," his statement said.

"Wyatt said more materials must be found to permit completion of 'thousands of homes and apartments' started this year but not finished, and to get more new dwellings under construction."

Only 40,000 of the 331,000 permanent dwellings started in the first six months were finished by July, Wyatt has reported, and the number of new starts at last reported had fallen short of the housing program goal.

Wyatt's statement came after Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., housing chairman of the American Veterans Committee, told newsmen that the government was permitting "an orgy of building which includes honky-tonks, race tracks, and swimming pools—but not homes."

Awaits Final Approval
Wyatt's program has yet to receive final approval of John D. Small, head of the Civilian Production Administration, who controls non-housing construction. Wyatt's aides said Small had concurred "in principle."

Small, who believes that non-housing construction already has been cut "dangerously low," last week made a counter-proposal—that Wyatt take over from C.P.A. the control of commercial and public works construction along with housing, and divide up the materials as he sees fit. But Wyatt's subordinates indicate he would rather serve a mandatory directive upon Small if necessary—using his Patman Act powers to promote the housing drive—than to take on the added responsibility.

Included in Wyatt's plans, he disclosed, are: A crackdown on building projects which violate the construction controls; the requirement that manufacturers set aside more materials for housing use only; the addition of 25 more types of building materials to the 25 already subject to housing priority control.

In the meanwhile spokesmen for the malleable iron industry complained to C.P.A. that so much pig iron is being allotted to housing that some plants have had to shut down. The plants make castings for a score of industries, including railroads and automobiles.

The industry group asked C.P.A. to limit the amount of pig iron for housing to 25 per cent of total production. C.P.A. replied that housing comes first and that increased pig-iron production in coming months is expected to solve the problem.

Four Petitions to Amend Zoning Law

Four public hearings to amend the city's zoning ordinance will be held Tuesday evening, commencing at 7:30 o'clock at the city hall by the laws and rules committee of the Common Council.

The hearings will be held on the petition of Donald Moore to change the premises at 118-120 Grand street, from residential to business; petition of the Emanuel Baptist Church to change the church property at 151 East street, from residential to industrial; the petition of Edward F. and Agnes M. Brown to change the premises at 30 Pine street from residential to business; and the petition of Mary C. Butler to change the premises at 99 Andrew street from residential to business.

Retail Meat Ceilings Will Go Into Effect September 9; Drive on Black Markets

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—The cost of coal and oranges is going up, but lower meat prices will go into effect September 9.

Naming the date when retail meat ceilings are to apply again, O.P.A. chief Paul Porter also pledged an all-out drive against black markets.

As this campaign developed, O.P.A. authorized a price boost of 30 cents a ton for hard coal and for coke, and an increase of 18 cents a ton for soft coal.

These retail price hikes, effective tomorrow, are required by the new price control law, O.P.A. said.

On oranges, maximum prices in retail stores will climb about a half cent a pound as soon as grocers receive supplies at higher prices authorized for producers.

But even while the parade of price increases continued, O.P.A. went ahead with an assignment it rarely handles any more—a price cut.

Porter reaffirmed at a news conference that the new meat ceilings which the price decontrol board ordered restored will be at or near June 30 figures.

In ordering them back, the board said meat prices had advanced from 30 to 60 per cent after controls lapsed June 30.

Porter also announced a price increase of seven cents a hundred pounds for flour, effective Friday, to offset higher parity prices for wheat, which remains ceiling-free along with all other major grains.

This price hike is expected to raise retail flour ceilings about one cent on a 10-pound sack, on top of a cent a pound increase allowed early this month.

However, Porter said that bread prices, raised a cent a loaf August 2, will be cut by the same amount when the Agriculture Department lifts restrictions on the milling of wheat, perhaps this fall.

Strict Enforcement

As for enforcement of meat ceilings, Porter said O.P.A. plans to "throw the book" at black marketers.

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—New York harbor was "back to normal" today, the War Shipping Administration reported, after two days of semi-paralysis caused by a walkout of 3,500 stevedores of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association at New York and New Jersey piers.

All piers affected were being worked by the stevedores, the W.S.A. said after a survey.

U. S. Ultimatum to Yugoslavia Overshadows Peace Parley

By ROBERT EUNSON
Paris, Aug. 22 (AP)—The United States' blunt ultimatum to Yugoslavia overshadowed all else today among diplomats assembled in Paris to write peace treaties.

Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was described as far more concerned with the adequacy of Yugoslavia in shooting down two American planes than he was in trying to help Europe build peace.

News of the American ultimatum—ordering Marshal Tito's government to give the United States satisfaction within 48 hours for acts described as warlike or force action by the United Nations Security Council—circulated quickly among peace conference delegates during the early morning hours.

Debate on reparations and territorial demands against Italy by Albania, Egypt and Austria was on today's agenda for the 21-nation peace conference. Allied diplomats, however, were concerned mainly with the effect of what some observers considered the

Meets With Byrnes

Yugoslav vice-premier Edvard Kardelj (above) and U.S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes conferred in Byrnes' Paris hotel room on the strained Yugoslav-American relations. Kardelj told newsmen he believed the shooting down of two unarmed American transport planes by Yugoslav fighters within ten days had been unintentional. He added that the two planes had been signalled to land when they were over Yugoslav territory, and that when the planes did not descend "there was nothing for us to do but shoot them down."

Security Council Confronted With Possible Showdown

Ultimatum Could Bring Peace Organization to Stand Hinging on Big Five Veto

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH
New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—The United States ultimatum to Yugoslavia threatens to confront the United Nations Security Council with a problem which could bring the whole peace organization to a bitter showdown which may hinge upon the Big Five veto power.

Council delegations were cautious today in speculating on what might happen if the Yugoslav government ignored the American demand for release of airmen held prisoner by the Tito government following the shooting down of unarmed U. S. transport planes.

However, it was conceded that the American threat to appeal to the Security Council should Yugoslavia fail to comply would give the council its supreme test of authority to settle disputes peacefully.

Up to now the council never has been faced with such an emergency as might be brought before it were the Yugoslavs, stiffened by Russian backing, to ignore or reject the American ultimatum.

The Yugoslav case, if it reaches the council, is confidently expected to inform U. N. quarters of the position of the council between Russia and the Western powers over the Iranian and Spanish cases still languishing on the council's agenda.

The veto power vested in the Soviet-Backed Balkan State Called Upon to Free Fliers and Permit Probe

To Meet Challenge

America Is Ready to Meet Possibility of Russian Veto

By ALEX H. SINGLETON
Washington, Aug. 22 (AP)—Time

on a 48-hour ultimatum to Yugoslavia ticked away today with the United States ready—if necessary—for a showdown involving the whole structure of world peace.

In a grave and angry indictment, this nation set tomorrow night as the deadline for the Soviet-backed Balkan state to (1) free imprisoned American airmen of one plane attacked by Yugoslav fighter craft, and (2) permit U. S. diplomats to investigate a second incident of a plane shot down near Marshal Tito's summer home.

It warned that unless those "demands" are met within the time limit—roughly about 10 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, Friday—the United States government "will call upon the Security Council of the United Nations to meet promptly and to take appropriate action."

This would pose a clearcut test of the Security Council to function as an international agency for preserving peace in the face of veto powers held by the big five nations.

There were strong fears in American diplomatic quarters of possible Yugoslav defiance of the ultimatum—and with that possibility the chance that a Russian veto of Security Council action would have to be met.

But there was no American government reluctance to meet that challenge.

Even before somber-faced Yugoslav Charge d'Affaires Sergej Makiedo was handed the note late yesterday, Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris ordered Under Secretary Acheson to begin preparing the American case and to be ready to present it personally to the Security Council.

That fact underscored both the anxiety and the determination to have the issue out. It had been reflected less than 24 hours earlier by two other major diplomatic developments:

1. A firm stand by the United States against Russia's demands for a share in the military control of the strategic Dardanelles.

2. Disclosure by those high in government of a firm new policy against appeasing Russia and against a further spread of Soviet domination over smaller and weaker countries.

Issue Unfolded
If that policy is to come up for a quick test, the issue was unfolded in last night's blistering note to Yugoslavia.

Shorn of the traditional diplomatic salutations, it was couched in language perhaps without precedent in peacetime communications from this country to another nation.

It stemmed from two "incidents" termed "outrageous" in the ultimatum.

One was the action of Yugoslav fighters August 9 in firing upon and forcing down an American plane, whose crew and passengers then were imprisoned.

The second involved another passenger plane 10 days later. The State Department said it had been informed that this plane was shot down and "some if not all" of its occupants killed.

Dispatches from Belgrade said the wreckage of the craft was found only about two miles from the Austrian border.

The United States claimed that the planes were forced off their routes by bad weather.

Yugoslavia has disputed this, taking the position that the planes were over Yugoslav territory and in violation of its territory.

Taking sharp note of the Yugoslav explanations, the United States termed them "wholly unsatisfactory to the government and shocking to the people of the United States."

"These outrageous acts have been perpetrated by a government that professes to be a friendly nation," the ultimatum said.

Citing the fact that the planes were unarmed, it declared that Continued on Page Seven

There's no tobacco to be had in Germany, Berlin reports, but pipe smokers get along all right. Ersatz cigarettes made from cherry leaves, dried rose leaves, vanilla roots, spearmint and lavender, after the last war, have given place to dried coffee grounds which smokers say make an excellent substitute. Another is hop residue, dried out after beer making. When sold as tobacco, these substitutes are expensive, as two-thirds of the price goes for taxes. But the Germans have not yet found any fiber good for cigarettes.

Legion Head Asks Fighter Planes to Help Transports

Portland, Ore., Aug. 22 (P)—National American Legion Commander John Stelle suggested last night that American fighter planes accompany all transports over European countries and engage any hostile planes.

He branded Yugoslavia as "contemptible" and said he believed his own son, who Stelle said flew 77 missions over Yugoslavia while it was Nazi ruled and other World War II veterans, would favor fighter protection for American military transports.

Eight Are Killed In Explosion at Plant for Jet Parts

Azusa, Calif., Aug. 23 (P)—Eight persons were dead and 20 injured today after a fire and explosion yesterday wrecked the Aero-Jet Engineering Corp., makers of jet-assisted take-off units for navy fighter and bomber planes.

Cause of the fire, which apparently licked its way into a volatile fluids mixing plant, remained undisclosed as navy authorities took charge of the plant. The blast, which blew some of the volunteer firefighters 60 feet, pounded holes in buildings 80 feet away, destroyed the plant's fire engine and equipment, and was heard 25 miles away.

Just Peace for Italy Is Urged by Brazil

Paris, Aug. 22 (P)—Brazil asked the Peace Conference today to prepare "a just peace" with Italy or "posterity will judge us with severity."

"Why should we not show the same consideration to the Italians?"

Italy was once a member of the Axis, he stated, but it should not be ignored that Italy also entered on the Allied side and made "substantial" contributions to victory.

Chances Brighten For Dewey in 1948

Primary Trend Indicates He May Bid for G.O.P. Presidential Run

Washington, Aug. 22 (P)—Freshly plugged gaps in New York's Republican Organization appeared today to heighten the possibility that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will bid for the 1948 presidential nomination if he wins reelection this year.

The regular organization closed its ranks when primary voters Tuesday refused Republican nominations for Reps. Joseph Clark Baldwin (R), Vito Marcantonio (Amn-Lab) and Adam Clayton Powell (D).

Intensive party work by the regulars who support Dewey was credited with substituting State Senator Frederick R. Coudert Jr. as the G.O.P. congressional nominee for Baldwin in the governor's home 17th District in New York city. Baldwin, a sometime supporter of Democratic administration proposals, got the American Labor Party nomination but announced he wouldn't run in November.

Similarly the Republican organization demonstrated more strength than it was able to muster two years ago in battling Marcantonio in the 18th District and Powell in the 22nd. Both won Democratic, Republican and A.L.P. nominations in 1944.

The Republicans came through this time with Frederick V. P. Drayn to oppose Marcantonio in November and Grant Reynolds to contest with Powell in the general election.

While the chief benefits of this pickup in organizational work seemed likely to accrue in this year's campaign, politicians noted that if Dewey wins in November he would carry into the 1948 campaign a relatively stronger organization that that which failed to turn the tide for him in his home state in 1944.

New York's 47 electoral votes loom mountain-like in any close presidential race. Thus Dewey's chances of winning at home might figure largely in any decision by the 1948 Republican Convention despite the G.O.P. precedent of never having renominated a losing presidential candidate.

PERSISTENCE FOR PEACE

Today, only a year after the official end of the most terrible conflict in history, a world barely started on the road to recovery is sickened by omens of more and worse to come. Tanks are rolling in the Middle East, guns roaring from Trieste to China. Barbed wire rises daily around more inhabitants of lands "freed" by years of bloodshed.

To this state of affairs there can be only one of two ends. There can be more war, worse than has yet been seen, which will leave a few human survivors exhausted beyond ability to rebuild. Or there can be a real and lasting peace, so strong no one will dare to violate it.

Construction of that peace is in the hands of a few men sitting in the meetings of the United Nations, and in the Peace Conference in Paris. They are human beings, tired of war, of struggle with the problems of survival in ravaged countries, and last of all, of the constant verbal wranglings in their meetings. It would be easy for them to give in to gain a little rest.

Yet that they must not do. They will have to deal strictly with such thorny dilemmas as Trieste, Yugoslavia, and The Danube, implementing decisions with the power already given the United Nations by their separate peoples. Unless they make a strong peace and enforce it, there will be none at all.

Many an after-dinner speaker must envy the rapt attention given to the simple and unadorned lecture of the traffic policeman.

NEW COLLEGE HEAD

The new president of California Institute of Technology, Dr. Lee Alvin DuBridge, is one of the army of scientists forced into the limelight by the atomic age.

Like so many of the men who worked in war time's scientific program, DuBridge is young, under 45, and apparently a man of tremendous energy. He left the University of Rochester's department of physics to head American radar work at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is said to have traveled between Cambridge and Washington during this period more than 200 times attempting to correlate scientific findings with military needs.

After his war work in applying scientific findings to practical uses, DuBridge should bring a realistic touch to the helm of California's great institution.

TITO AND "ALICE"

Marshal Tito must have read "Alice in Wonderland." This is the view of a correspondent who was shocked at the foregone conclusion of the Mikhailovich trial. He found precisely the same idea in the "Mouse's Tale" in the children's classic, where the dog Fury threatens a mouse with legal proceedings.

"I'll be judge, I'll be jury," said cynicism of the trial.
"I'll try the whole case and condemn you to death," Unfortunately it is not necessary to assume this literary origin for the Yugoslav drumhead courtmartial. Hasty trials whose outcome was known in advance are almost as old as man himself.

PRACTICAL MUSEUMS

Designers of everything from dress materials to compact, from airplane parts to bathtubs, are turning more and more to museums of art for help in planning their products.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York is planning a new department to aid designers. A large part of their 75th anniversary fund of $7,500,000 will be used in this development, which will save researchers much time and trouble. Under existing conditions a designer assigned to a new product is forced to plow through piles of incompletely classified records and to ask assistance from librarians and other staff members. Automatic machinery will be developed to facilitate the use of carefully prepared files by untrained and inexperienced searchers without help.

As a result of this activity of the museums,

ITALIA IRREDENTA

Italy, as modern state, is relatively new, if we count from the revolution of Mazzini and the establishment of the House of Savoy as a democratic monarchy. Italy, as a culture, is one of the oldest in Europe, representing the residue of the Roman Empire. Never economically self-sufficient, Italy has always, even in the time of the Caesars, imported food and exported people. Mussolini's campaign against Ethiopia and his alliance and eventual subservience to Hitler were as much a product of the controlled and restricted movement of foodstuffs and raw materials after World War 1 and limited immigration into the United States as due to ideological associations. Italy's population pressure and unmet supply of toys and raw materials remain today an unsolved problem.

The Italians lost the war and can be treated as a conquered people; they can be oppressed; their industries can be stripped; they can be starved and their boundaries can be redrawn so as to reduce them to a tiny speck among the European nations. Italy has no physical resources to defend herself. She has to rely upon the willingness of the conquerors to draw a peace on the basis of the welfare of Europe. The alternative is a peace of revenge with attendant civil wars, revolutions and the eventual explosion of peoples for liberty and nationalism, or a peace of mercy and justice.

Four factors complicate the peace:

1. Trieste;
2. The French boundary;
3. The Italian colonies;
4. Reparations.

1. Trieste is the symbol for an area of mixed populations in Venezia Giulia. The Italians predominate, but there are also Yugoslavs and other peoples. Both the Italians and the Yugoslavs try to prove that certain municipalities are racially and linguistically theirs. The ethnic doctrine is untenable in that kind of country, the people are too mixed. This area is by history, by the wish of the majority of the people, Italian. Any tricky compromise to give a little to one country or another will solve no problem. It is Italian.

Yugoslavia is now a Russian satellite. It has no life of its own, the Russian dominating it completely. The Russians desire a port on the Adriatic. They are fighting hard to extend the Yugoslav interest so that such a port may be made available to the Russian group of nations.

The original American proposal was that the new Treaty follow the old Wilson line with modifications in favor of Yugoslavia in the North; in favor of Italy in the South. The City of Trieste was to go to Italy. The Russians are objecting to that and are fighting hard for their line or the French compromise, which is no compromise at all. Trieste is to be made an international port, which is an impossibility, because it would soon become national in terms of Russian might and the lack of interest of the other great powers.

2. The boundaries between Italy and France have been subject to controversy since Italy became a modern state. The original American proposal was that the boundaries remain in status quo ante bellum, with minor modifications. The French have been pushing hard for a rectification of the boundary in France's favor. As a matter of fact, if the ridiculous ethnic rule were followed, how much of southern France would be Italian?

3. As regards the Italian colonies, the United States proposed that they all become independent with an Italian participation in their administration. Russia and France insist upon complete renunciation of colonies.

4. Soviet Russia demands huge reparations. Obviously Italy can pay no reparations. What is to happen then is that Italy will borrow her reparations from the United States and then pay it to Soviet Russia. Maybe this transaction will be hidden under words and wads of diplomatic language, but it will be only that just the same.

The Italian problem is basic in the peace, for in its solution lies the key to the general procedures of the peace for all the conquered countries. Shall it be a conqueror's peace or a just peace? Are we living in the age of Genghis Khan or of the United Nations?

THIS UPSET WORLD

Men and women, of all ages, throughout the world are looking in upon themselves as never before. They just can't figure themselves to be the same individuals as before World War II. Those of middle age may think that "old age" is upon them because they do not enjoy life as they did, seem to have more little if not big worries, and do not eat or sleep well. Some consult their physicians because of symptoms and others do not like to bother their physicians with their "trifling" complaints.

What should be done about this unsettled state of mind of so many of us at this time?

The first thing we must all realize is that the world and all the people in it have undergone months and years of world upheaval and we have not as individuals been able to adjust ourselves to the new order of things. The sooner we become adjusted the sooner will we be able to enjoy life again, not perhaps in the same way, but in a way which will relieve us of the symptoms—mental, physical and emotional—with which we are now afflicted.

What are these symptoms caused by unrest of spirit and lack of adjustment to present day life? In Clinical Medicine, Dr. Lydia Sicher states that the symptoms are: nervousness, irritability, fatigue, memory, headaches, inability to concentrate, fatigue, exhaustion, aches and pains, anxiety, nightmares, ulcers, fits and seizures; a variety of ailments that physicians are used to see at all times and call them psychasthenia, neurasthenia, nervousness, neurosis, mostly without any organic disease, often with organic consequences.

The first point stressed by Dr. Sicher is that the patient is not malingering (pretending an illness is present), nor on the other hand is he really sick in spite of symptoms and suffering. The physical disturbance is caused by his mental or emotional unrest.

What is the treatment of these cases where there is apparently no cause for the symptoms?

A careful complete examination is made by physician and dentist to make sure no real cause is present, then the family physician or, if necessary, a psychiatrist explains how these symptoms are caused by the unsettled or unsatisfied state of his mind and emotions.

It's Hard to Splice Hot Wires

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD

(For Hal Boyle)

Istanbul, Turkey, Aug. 22 (AP)—Talking about cats, as everybody does here, there are people with more than their share of getting around the world who contend that Istanbul has more cats to the doorstep than any other city in any country.

There are no figures to confirm or refute this, but a glance up and down any Istanbul street is enough to convince the doubter that there is some merit in the argument.

No one, official or otherwise, is willing to hazard even a rough guess on the city's feline population, but the supply can be described as well in excess of ample. Last spring's kitten crop littered the streets, choked gutters and blocked apartment house steps while the number of roving parents in towise diminished.

Istanbul is a cat paradise, one of the reasons being that there are few dogs to disturb normal cat routine.

The Turks rounded up all the city's stray dogs some 30-odd years ago, hauled them by ship to a barren island in the Sea of Marmara and abandoned them to an unhappy fate. Left without food and without access to the mainland, the dogs simply devoured each other until, it may be reasoned, only one dog remained and he, or she, presumably starved to death. At least there are no dogs today on the island which, not at all strangely, acquired the name "Dog Island." There is no tourist trade there, either.

So Istanbul's cats don't worry about dogs. It's the dogs that do whatever worrying there is to be done. Whereas canines usually are top dog anywhere else, they are strictly on the receiving end here and proceed with the utmost caution and timid friendliness. A report from the municipal office which takes care of such matters related that in June the office "disposed" of 137 stray dogs and only seven cats.

The Turks just don't like dogs, and that's that. Cats are something else again, and the sounds of the night offer ample proof.

Tractor Care Taught First Time to 4-H

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 22—In 25 counties of New York state, 4-H Club members are learning tractor maintenance, the first time this project has been offered by the Extension Service in the state.

Professor C. M. Edwards, extension agricultural engineer at Cornell, reports that approximately 500 boys and girls learned how to care for tractors to decrease fuel consumption, reduce repairs, breakdowns, and delays in work. Meetings in the counties were to demonstrate to county 4-H agents, local club leaders, and 4-H menbers how to do the work set up for the project.

In New York four regional leader-training meetings this spring were attended by 98 leaders and club agents. C. R. Lund and Gilbert Croll, both of the American Oil Company, assisted Professor Edwards with the instruction.

The tractor maintenance program is the first of a series that will cover all farm machines, says Edwards. Plans are now in the making for next year's tractor maintenance work when enrollment of members from nearly every county is expected.

The oil company offers the member doing the best job in the project, an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago this December.

TODAY'S GARDEN-GRAPH

New African Violets From Old

By DEAN HALLIDAY
Released by Central Press Association

SEEDS ARE formed readily on African violet plants as the flowers fade but only a greenhouse man or a gardener who has a conservatory should attempt to propagate these plants from seed. The amateur, however, can easily grow African violets from his old plants by means of cuttings.

One method of planting leaf cuttings from an African violet plant is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Choose mature leaves, picked from the base of the plant, and insert the leaf stem into a pot of moist sand, as illustrated.

As the new plant develops it will outgrow its small pot, when it should be shifted into one that is a size or two larger. Use the same kind of soil mixture in the second pot. The plants usually begin to bloom in from seven to eight months.

American Families of Service Men Might Well Be Brought Home From Europe, Where Major Test Will Take Place
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 22—American families of service men might well be brought home from Europe in the near future. For apparently a major test, such as the world witnessed in 1936 when Hitler marched into the Rhineland, is about to take place—and this time it could result in war.

The test unquestionably is being engineered by Russia. Despite the vituperative propaganda coming out of Moscow calling other nations "gangsters" and "warmongers," the fact is that Russia has been manufacturing war materials in the German occupied zone under her control. Components of advanced "V" weapons, torpedoes, mechanisms, submarine turbines and aircraft engines have been made in German factories in the last three months, according to reliable information from London and Berlin.

Is Tito being given the go-ahead by Moscow? If the United States and Britain do not show any signs of resistance but merely acquiesce, the Russian militarists will be encouraged to go on just as Hitler was encouraged in 1936 by the failure of Allied diplomacy to recognize what was happening.

The latest note sent by the United States to Yugoslavia threatens to take up with the Security Council of the United Nations the whole episode, in which the American government now charges that the attack on our planes was "deliberate." When a nation accuses another of deliberate attack, one or the other must back down. If Yugoslavia apologizes, the incident will be ended, but assurances will be demanded that no further attacks will occur. If Tito, inspired by Moscow, takes a firm position and refuses to back down, a crisis will come quickly.

The whole thing could mean that Russia is seeking an excuse to march on Turkey and perhaps even to grab all of Germany. It is well known that the United States demobilized so rapidly that the Russian Army, which did not demobilize, could overrun continental Europe in ninety days. The pretext could well be some trumped-up charge that Britain and the United States have violated the armistice agreements in relation to control of Germany. A government which just seven years ago this month was collaborating with Hitler and encouraging him to believe he would have no opposition in the east if he chose to attack Poland, Britain and France, can hardly need an excuse if she wishes to pursue an aggressive course now.

BRITAIN ONCE WAS CLEVER

What has happened to the wit and cleverness which once characterized Britain's foreign policy? Where are the Lord Palmerstons and the Salisburys? Why is it that the present day British diplomats never manage to slip a hot potato out of John Bull's hand into the hand of some other nation?

British diplomacy on the Palestine front, bucks everybody, satisfies nobody, keeps the Lion's tail in a crack. I have been wondering what would happen if the great empire's only Jewish premier, Disraeli, could be dug up and installed again at No. 10 Downing Street.

Remember how he handled the squabble between Britain and Turkey when Turkey was getting its feathers ruffled over the Suez Canal? The foxey empire builder let Turkey's puppet pasha in Egypt take over only to bankrupt himself and quarrel with his sultan. It wasn't long till Britain had the canal for a few cents on the dollar.

Let's suppose the sly fixer is Britain's premier today. Zionists from the United States, France and the Continent are pressuring him to admit displaced Jews to Palestine—the country they claim as historically Jewish. Representatives of the forty million Arabs of the Eastern Mediterranean are pressuring him to keep the Jews out of Palestine—which they claim is historically Arab.

Disraeli is suave, friendly and non-committal. He runs his long fingers over the map of the trouble spot. There are the oil wells in Iraq, the pipe line—one of Britain's minor lifelines—down to the harbor at Haifa. There is the canal routing British ships from the Mediterranean through the Red Sea to vast British interests in India, China and the islands of two oceans.

Oil and the canal—they're the nuggets. For them Britain has been willing to play policeman over Jew and Arab with a beat from Egypt to the Turkish border. Across the Persian Gulf and on Turkey's eastern side stands silent Joe Stalin, drooling as he looks in the direction of the Eastern Mediterranean. Beside him are a million deployed fighting men.

In Jerusalem a hotel smoulders in ruins from a Jewish terrorist bomb; rescue workers take out the burned bodies of British soldiers. Zionists tell Disraeli if he doesn't let their DP kinsmen into Palestine they'll go get Uncle Sam. Arabs tell him if he does they'll go get Uncle Joe. Hoping to influence Joe's friends, the Arabs now say the Jews really aren't Communists after all, but are capitalists and therefore natural enemies of the Russians.

Stalin, drooling some more and venturing a whispering campaign that he will help the Arabs. On Disraeli, if he were here, doodles on the map's margin; draws a

It is curious that the Molotov who inveighs so violently against Hitler insists that Italy has not atoned for her period of Fascist rule, even though she later fought on the side of the Allies, is the same Molotov who made the deal with Hitler and drank cocktails with him in the first alliance of 1939, after which the Nazis opened the war. This alliance lasted two years.

For the part played by Russia in this mischievous plot to upset the balance of power in Europe, nobody at the Paris Conference is today denouncing Molotov or his government. But there will be many in America who will say, "I told you so" if it turns out that the Moscow Government is egging Tito on with the idea of seeing just what America would do about it.

Already the Russian press is denouncing the atomic bomb and saying America's attitude of firmness is induced by possession of the bomb. What the Communists do not understand is that the bomb will never be used on the initiative of this country; that, if America is attacked, public opinion in the United States can be as volatile as it was in Britain when heavy bombing began there in 1940.

Russia has the advantage now, because almost all our air forces and ground troops have been demobilized. But this advantage cannot last long. The United States and Britain will endeavor to work through the United Nations Security Council. Russia, with her veto will endeavor to delay action but, in the meantime, it is conceivable that a re-mobilization of American Air Forces in Europe could happen. Even if there is no war, the Allied Forces would stay there the next time until peace in Europe is assured.

Distasteful and horrible as the thought of another war, the decision soon may be whether the way to prevent it is to run away from threats and challenges or to meet them now while a trained force and equipment are available. These are not just the thoughts of a writer commenting on the passing scene from the national capital but the thoughts expressed in private by many persons in government, who admit that a major crisis is at hand.

The possibility exists that if Yugoslavia doesn't back down, the President may return to Washington and summon congressional leaders and place the whole situation before them at once.

bomb with a lighted fuse. About that time he makes up his mind and issues an order. Pull the trigger out of Palestine. Move them down to the borders of the Suez canal and to Aden on the Gulf of Arabs. Close out the thankless mandate.

Soviet Gets Indigestion

The world is electrified with the new Zionists scream to the United States to do something, but the United States is stunned and also divided. It was Britain's mandate, not ours, some of us say, and besides there's Joe Stalin ready to sneak in from the rear and he's got a bayonet in his hand. The Jews, outnumbered seventy to one by the Arabs, turn their plea to Stalin. This is Joe's chance. The world is horrified at the prospect of massacres in Jerusalem and a call to the Jews to leave the land of the Jews and the policeman of the Jews and the policeman of the Jews.

Just as he threatens to grab the oil fields, however, Disraeli's royal navy tests an atomic bomb—lent by the United States through the usual chestnut pulling—in the Arabian Gulf right off shore and Disraeli bluffs out loud that he can get plenty more atomic bombs where that one came from. And the Arabs are so mad at him they swarm on his men like hornets. The Moslems of Iran and Iraq break out like smallpox and disrupt Soviet transportation and blow up supplies and the Mohammedans all across Western China when their scimitars and renounce Communism and in fact all Islam upheaves like a sun spewing atoms. A few million Moslems aside Soviet borders start talking "Holy War"—a Jihad still more sacred to them than Marxism.

Lest his ponderous Red empire crumble, Joe Stalin has to call his legions home from Moscow. Jewry now turns against Britain—and it develops that with the Arabs that they would guard the oil fields and the pipe line.

Meanwhile Disraeli's Tommies are sitting in their clubs drinking Scotch and soda with never a war in sight!

Once, in the days of Britain's greatness and cleverness it was done this way. Now . . .

Tientsin Hard Hit

Because its 3,000 industrial plants have remained idle since V-J Day, Tientsin, once the largest industrial city in North China, now has 100,000 unemployed workers. Raw materials, to which Tientsin used to depend on other places, are no longer arriving because military operations have cut off supply lines. Unless the Chinese Government and Communist forces stop fighting, there is little hope of reviving the industries of the northern port.

Miss Ryder Finds Hand Grenade in Her Apartment

Miss Carolyn Ryder, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Stephen W. Ryder of the North Flatbush Reformed Church figured in an interesting news item in the metropolitan press early this week.

Miss Ryder, now a resident of New York city, was happily setting things aright in an apartment she had sublet at 195 West 10th street, when she came across a cardboard container on a closet shelf.

One peek into that sent her running all the way to the Charles Street Police Station with the package. Sergeant Martin Connolly took one look and called Emergency Squad No. 2 and the Bomb Squad. The latter identified the object in the box as a hand grenade. They also assured Miss Ryder that it was empty and harmless, and she returned to her new apartment in a much happier frame of mind.

But later it developed that while the firing pin was missing from the grenade, the powder was still there. That put an entirely different slant on the case and Miss Ryder wrote Ulster county friends that she is "still shaking in her shoes."

Priest Puts Blame On Parents for Juvenile Problem

Parental neglect and broken or unfaithful homes produce more than 40 per cent of all youth in the toils of the law, the Rev. Edward Barry, assistant pastor of St. Francis DeSales Church of Phoenixia, declared in an address yesterday before the Kingston Rotary Club.

The Rev. Mr. Barry, discussing efforts being made in Phoenixia to provide wholesome, clean recreational facilities for not only the boys and girls of the community but also for the returned servicemen, attributed 40 per cent of delinquencies to parental neglect.

Another 20 per cent, he said,

come from broken or unfaithful homes.

Pressing his discussion of the principal factors creating juvenile delinquency, the Rev. Barry asked the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon the point-blank question of "What are you doing about it?"

The Rev. Mr. Barry's speech reflected a broad and intuitive knowledge of the psychology of youth training. He discussed at length his experiences in working with the F.B.I. prior to entering the priesthood.

American Eyewitness Says Yugoslav Plane Appeared To Be of U. S. Manufacture

By JOHN P. MCKNIGHT
Trieste, Aug. 22 (AP)—An American who saw the U. S. Army transport shot down at the Yugoslav frontier Monday said today the Yugoslav fighter plane appeared to be of American manufacture.

Yugoslavia received $28,800,000 of war supplies, including planes, under the Lend-Lease program during the war.

Telephone lines throughout the American and British occupation zone in this territory, disputed between Italy and Yugoslavia, were usually busy today and many high ranking officers were absent from their desks, indicating unaccustomed activity.

Some Allied military and political figures, who may not be named, expressed the opinion that Washington might go as far as to break off diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia over the downing of two C-47 transport planes by that country.

The eyewitness, a former soldier with combat experience in Italy who asked that his name not be used, said the sound of the planes' motors and their line convinced him that the were American P-51 Mustangs.

The American said he witnessed the incident from a hotel window in Bled after he was attracted by the noise of the fighter planes passing overhead.

He added that he himself heard no sound of shooting, but that other witnesses in the street told him later they heard four or five loud explosions resembling cannon fire.

"It was clear," he said, "that the transport plane was hit in the rear and was burning on the way down."

He added that he saw no parachutes, but that others told him later two persons parachuted from the stricken plane.

He said the two planes, far exceeding the slow transport in speed and maneuverability, gave chase to the transport over Bled as it was proceeding northward, apparently returning to Austria.

"They overtook the transport plane over the mountain across the lake from Bled and made several passes at it," he said.

"The plane then went into a slow turn, as though it were about to return to Bled to land. Then the fighter planes came again, and the plane fell off into a spin and spiraled to the ground with great clouds of black smoke coming out of it."

After it crashed on the far side of the mountain, one of the fighter planes dived low over the lake and zoomed over the city as though in a victory gesture.

"Many persons in the streets cheered as the fighter passed over them," he said.

A dispatch from Belgrade, the Yugoslav capital, said the best information available there was that no British or American types of fighter planes were being used at present by the Yugoslavs. Russian-type Stormoviks which are being used look something like British Spitfires, the dispatch said. Immediately after the war Yugoslavia had a small number of British Hurricane fighters, and still used numerous American-made C-47 and German Junkers 52 transports for transport purposes.

It was reported without confirmation that the staff officers of the American and British forces in the Trieste area had been called into conference at the 13th Corps Headquarters in Durno.

Convincing Demonstration
The U. S. 88th Division paraded within view of Yugoslav binoculars here Monday and Lt. Gen. John C. Lee, ranking American commander, called to review a "convincing demonstration of Allied military might."

However, it was evidence that the function of the Western Allied forces here was purely defensive.

the American secretary of state are Edward Kerdelj, Yugoslavia's vice premier, and Maj. Gen. H. R. Bull, chief of staff of the U. S. Army of occupation in Germany. Huebner is scheduled to replace Bull as Gen. Joseph T. McNarney's chief of staff soon.

Talks to Truman
Byrnes also has been in long distance telephone communication with President Truman aboard the presidential yacht, Williamsburg in the Atlantic and with Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state in Washington.

Both telephone calls were made after Byrnes talked with Kerdelj, who reportedly disclaimed knowledge of the incidents of which the United States complains, but promised to inform his government and ask for a "fill in" from officials in Belgrade.

An announcement said Byrnes "gentle" for Kerdelj and "talked frankly" to him, but gave no details of the conversation. American sources said the conversation lasted about an hour and that all phases of the Yugoslav situation were discussed.

Kerdelj told newspapermen that he believed the downing of the two American transports over Yugoslavia had been unintentional, but he added that the two planes had been signaled to land and that failing to do so, "there was nothing for us to do but shoot them down."

The grey-haired Byrnes refused to see reporters or make any official statement, but it is known in Paris that he dictated for release in Washington the ultimatum which gave Yugoslavia 48 hours to release the imprisoned Americans and to allow diplomatic representatives to investigate the loss in Yugoslavia of American transports, planes and American lives.

A British delegation source expressed concern when informed of the ultimatum, but said the British leaders would have no immediate comment.

The understatement of the day came from another delegate who usually has been aligned with Britain and America in the first weeks of the peace conference.

"This won't help," he said when apprised of the ultimatum.

Pictorial Review of Ulster County Fair

A pictorial review of the annual Ulster County Fair as seen through the eye of the camera in the hands of The Freeman photographer gives an excellent idea of some of the exhibits shown Wednesday at Forsyth Park. The fair was attended by thousands and was considered one of the best ever held at the uptown park.

other for cattle and long pens housing sheep and swine.

Departmental Exhibits
In addition to displaying the "side shows" and attractions not closely agricultural and home-making, in recent years, the tendency has been to "departmentize" the fair, under the Farm Bureau, Home Bureau and 4-H Club, and under the immediate direction of Albert Kurtz, Farm Bureau agent, as secretary.

However, the exhibition Wednesday presented a still further change, probably temporary, since the fair was last held, in 1942, in that there was a very marked reduction in the number of exhibits in the so-called "general classes."

Thus, there was not a single entry this year in the general fruit class. One reason assigned for this was damage done to fruit, more particularly apples, by a number of hail storms in some of the apple growing areas, with other weather conditions. One grower was quoted as saying that he would have to search through his entire orchard to get a basket of apples suitable for exhibition.

Light Showing of Cattle
In the cattle department entries were light. It was explained that shortage of help on the farms these days was one reason given, as possible exhibitors felt that they did not have the time to get animals ready for exhibition, bring them to the fair and care for them there.

In the Holstein class there were only four entries, all young stock, by three exhibitors. Four years ago there were 31 different classes, with six exhibitors.

There were two fine herds of Guernseys, but that was the whole story there. They were shown by the Saxe Farm (John H. Saxe of West Hurley), and the Hidden Valley Farm, Whiteport, owned by Lloyd Hoffstatter.

A single calf represented the Ayrshires. In 1942 there were two herds.

Nice Showing Saddle Horses
With the exception of saddle horses, of which there was a good list of entries, four teams represented the horse department—those of the Beatty Farm, John H. Saxe, Francis Waters and Harry Elliott. This was a considerable drop from four years ago.

The feed shortage, among the other reasons, was given in explanation of the unusually light showing of poultry, there being only 50 coops entered in all.

The general vegetable exhibit was confined to a comparatively small showing at one end of the pavilion near the main entrance to the park, but some excellent specimens were on display.

On the other hand, some very fine fruit—in packs and on plates—including apples, pears, peaches, plums, grapes, etc., was on display in the Grange and 4-H departments. This also was true of vegetables.

A Few of the Winners
With the rush and hard work attendant upon a one-day fair, and with much of the judging completed at a late hour, officials and the obliging young women who assist in the various departments, found it impossible to compile much of a detailed list of winners.

However, Miss Elmendorf and Miss McLean of the Farm Bureau office, were able to give the following Wednesday evening:

Farm Horses
Heavy Farm Team—Harry Elliott, Hurley, 1st; Beatty Farm, Kingston, 2d.

Light Farm Team—John H. Saxe, West Hurley, 1st; Francis Waters, Hurley, 2d.

Heavy Single—Beatty Farm, 1st and 3d; Harry Elliott, 2d and 4th.

showed all but one were born and raised on his farm.

Holsteins—Heifer, senior calf, Todd Meredith, Walkill, 1st. Heifer, junior calf, Roger Hornbeck, Stone Ridge, 1st.

Ayrshires—Arthur Brundage of Walkill was awarded a first for his year-old heifer—the only entry in this class.

Vegetables
Ralph A. Tice of Spring Glen and Dorothy Kurtz of Kingston tied for first place. The sweepstakes prize for largest number of entries went to Vincent Maggioro of the Plank Road.

Poultry
Three sweepstakes awards—for best pullet, best pair and best cock—were won by Julius Kross, Ellenville, P. O.

Best cockerel—Frank A. Vandusen, Tillson.

Best hen—Carol DuBois, Gardiner.

Grange Awards
Seven Ulster county Granges had large and nicely arranged booth exhibits in the large tent on the right side of the animal houses at the park. They showed some very choice fruits and vegetables, in addition to other displays. Judges placed them as follows:

Group A (general farming section)—Rosendale, 1st; Patroon Grange, Accord, 2d; Lake Katrine, 3d.

Group B (fruit growing section)—Clintondale, 1st; Highland, 2d; Ulster, 3d; Huguenot, 4th.

Judges on Grange exhibits were Agricultural Agents A. L. Shepherd of Dutchess and E. G. Brougham of Greene county, with Mrs. H. M. Eppes of Accord.

4-H Exhibits
In addition to display in the tent containing the Grange and other exhibits, the 4-H Clubs occupied a large tent filled with demonstration booths and which was in charge of Miss Margaret Gippert of the 4-H office. The following clubs, with class of demonstration and leaders in charge, occupied booths:

Lake Katrine Homemaking, demonstrating "Good Breakfasts," Mrs. Frank Ennist, leader.

Lake Katrine Agricultural, "Storage of Fruits and Vegetables," William T. Hookey.

Modena Homemaking Club, "Equipped Closet," Mrs. Marian Jensen.

Accord Homemaking Club, "Text Accessories," Mrs. Jacob Dewitt.

Use of Milking Machines," Frank Kelder.

High Falls Busy Bees, "Breakfast and Homemade Toys," Mrs. Otto Feth.

Asbury Homemaking, nutrition, Mrs. George Saile.

Flatbush Pioneers, "Home Improvement," Mrs. John Dimmeler.

Hurley Boys Club, "Egg Candles," Charles Relyea and Ernest Myer.

Woodland Valley Club, Conservation, Norman Studer.

There was much interest shown in the black Aberdeen-Angus baby beef steer shown in the 4-H exhibit by Charles Relyea, Jr., of Hurley. He said that it was 14 months old and weighed 950 pounds. It appeared to be "gentle as a kitten."

A large "Siamese" cucumber, or rather two large cucumbers entirely joined together, was an oddity shown by the Lake Katrine club.

4-H exhibitors also occupied one entire side of the tent on the right, with fruit, vegetables, cakes, cookies, canned goods, etc.

Other Educational Exhibits
Others having booths, or educational exhibits in this tent, in addition to the Granges, were the Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H clothing reveue, Ulster County TB and Health Association, Planned Parenthood group, Women's Field Army, New Paltz Future Farmers, Farm Bureau, Pomona Grange, Artificial Breeders' Association, Dairy Improvement Association, Kingston Canning Center and the Ulster County Veterans Agency.

The Veterans Agency booth was in charge of Counselors Howard C. Shurtner and Donald Moore. They were kept busy advising the many veterans who called and giving out literature, especially forms for application for terminal pay, of which some 200 or more were given out.

Home Bureau
The Home Bureau occupied most of the space in the pavilion with home-making exhibits and a special Home Bureau exhibit, in charge of Miss Everice Parsons, county agent. It was noted that here, too, displays were not as numerous as the last year, although Miss Parsons said that some fine pieces of work were shown.

Some Notes
Several officials and others commented Wednesday that the lapse of four years without a fair had resulted to some extent in getting people "out of the habit."

Particularly was it noted that in the case of 4-H boys and girls there are many present members who have had no experience with exhibiting their work, which necessitated much more than usual training.

Among some more prominent people noted on the grounds Wednesday were Congressman Jay LeFevre, Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Commissioner of Farms and Markets C. Chester DuMont.

These in addition to fair officials and leading agriculturists of the county.

Inspecting the fair and its exhibits, in company with Secretary Kurtz, was A. L. Kramer, farm products inspector of the State Bureau of Markets. At one time located at Highland for two years and for many years in the state service, it is Mr. Kramer's duty to inspect such exhibitions as the one held here Wednesday.

Commenting on the crowd that surrounded the two show rings and packed the nearby hillside Wednesday afternoon, John H. Saxe said that it seemed to him to be one of the largest he had ever seen there.

A number of firms had commercial exhibits on the grounds, showing household appliances and equipment, farm machinery, and the like.

During the 4-H showing of cattle the judge gave the young folks some good advice about attending strictly to their "knitting" while showing their animals in the ring. He commended them, saying that they did well, particularly since they had been out of the work for four years.

About the busiest place on the ground was the hot dog stand. It was besieged during the day and two or three times as much help as was present could have kept going—and not have given prompt service. In some cases people stood waiting for half to three-quarters of an hour—and finally were glad to compromise on a bottle of soda.

Firemen Parade in Yonkers Saturday
Final plans were made by volunteer firemen of Kingston at a meeting held last evening at the Rapid Hose Co. house on Hone street to take part in the big firemen's parade to be held in Yonkers on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Approximately 50 volunteers from the various fire companies of the city will make the trip to Yonkers that day, and Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy will head the delegation.

The local firemen have engaged the John T. Kenny Drum Corps of Newburgh to head the delegation in the parade, which will

IN THE NEWS

By the AP Feature Service

Russia is back in the stamp news with more than a dozen new issues. They include a new tourist propaganda set, memorial issues for the late President Mikhail Kalinin and Maxim Gorky and eight additions to its series illustrating various Soviet medals.

Resets in the Black Sea area of the Russian are published by the new tourist stamp issue reported by J. and H. Stelow of

New York. A 15-kopek olive-green picture of a Sukhumi beach scene. A magnificent building, apparently a hotel, at Sochi, located north of Sukhumi, appears on a 30-k green. Another 30-k green picture of a landscape, highly along the Black Sea at Gagra, between Sochi and Sukhumi, and a building at New Athos is shown on a 45-k red-brown.

Two Maxim Gorky portrait stamps mark the tenth anniversary this year of the death of this Russian novelist. Each presents a portrait of Gorky different from those appearing on previous stamps issued in his honor (Scott's 470-471 and 895-896). A 30-k brown also features an inscription, "Mankind—that sounds proud." The second stamp, a 60-k green, had no special inscription.

The black 20-k memorial to the late President Kalinin, who died June 3, is identical in design with the 20-k value of a 1935 set issued on his 60th birthday (Scott's 576), except for the omission of the hammer and sickle emblem in the upper left and the new date "3-VI-1946" in the upper right. Earlier incomplete reports listed only six instead of eight additions to the medal series. Each is 60 kopeks.

The stamp presses have been busy in Bulgaria recently. J. and H. Stelow of New York report the following new issues: four-leva red and 20-leva blue green, picturing the Bulgarian and Russian coats of arms.

Next year United States commemorative stamp will be one marking the 100th anniversary of the acquisition of New Mexico. Postmaster General Hannegan announced that the stamp, presumably at three-cent denomination, will be placed on first-day sale at Santa Fe at a date to be announced later.

Luxembourg released a souvenir sheet in connection with the National Philatelic Exhibition at Dudange July 28 and 29. A single 50-franc blue stamp is centered on the sheet and shows three men at work at a steel furnace.

In addition to two postage conference commemorative stamps reported in this column recently, France also has issued a 10-franc blue stamp picturing the Luxembourg Palace in Paris, where the conference is being held. . . . Australia will issue three stamps marking the 100th anniversary of Sir Thomas Mitchell's explorations in Queensland. . . . Britain's two postage stamps have been overprinted for use in Tangier. . . . This column's nomination for the most attractive United States stamp for the year, from the standpoint of color, is the recent Smithsonian Institution commemorative. . . .

Designs for Canada's new pictorial stamps, to be issued September 16, have drawn some criticism from Canadians. The eight-cent value, it has been pointed out, pictures a farm scene in which a farmer is plowing in the wrong direction and the plow is turning the earth the wrong way.

A Vancouver member of Canada's Philatelic Society writes that the 10-cent stamp is "drawn on the 50-cent stamp is found to be killed by snow, trees and branches certain to be brought down by the big tree being in the left. The snow, which is to be blown, rests from the top of the tree down to a compass of two pictures of animals."

The 10-cent stamp is criticized in the Vancouver paper for its "drawn on the 50-cent stamp is found to be killed by snow, trees and branches certain to be brought down by the big tree being in the left. The snow, which is to be blown, rests from the top of the tree down to a compass of two pictures of animals."

Smoke Dreams

Hollywood, Calif., Aug. 22 (AP)—It's publicity that counts in Hollywood, they say, and Miss Jacque (Cq) Lee, a singer, believes it.

Winner of a radio contest yesterday, Miss Lee was told she could have any wish she wanted within reason. She said she wanted her name inscribed in the sky a mile high.

The radio sponsor got hold of a skywriter and said he would do it.

Beginner's Luck

Idaho Springs, Colo., Aug. 22 (AP)—Lean, bespectacled Prof. R. Norris Shreve, Purdue University chemist and atom scientist, on a visit to this old gold-mining area, took a "panning" trip with J. Price Briscoe, local mining operator.

The professor got traces of gold in his first attempt to pan the creek, then nearly missed a couple of nuggets on his second, but Briscoe hurriedly pointed them out.

He had to, Briscoe confessed later. He had "salted" the stream from his personal nugget collection.

Truman's Plans After Bermuda Not Made Public

With President Truman en route to Bermuda, Aug. 22, President Truman's plans for the United States naval operating base at Bermuda today for his second visit on foreign soil since entering the White House.

The Presidential Yacht U. S. S. Williamsburg approached its docking in the British Crown Colony over calm, blue gulfstream waters. The peaceful seas were reminiscent of the calm water which the cruiser Augusta plied carrying Mr. Truman to and from the Big Three Conference at Potsdam last August.

The length of Mr. Truman's stay in Bermuda has not been disclosed. Nor has Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters where Mr. Truman will make his next call during the Gulfstream cruise. The party is not due back in Washington until Labor Day, September 2.

Presumably the President will look over the big Bermuda naval base, one of those the United States acquired under 99-year lease in exchange for 30 over-age destroyers.

Dr. Ullmark has been in the United States for the last 10 outstanding Swedish athletes to Argentina next year. The doctor was most impressed by Alberto Lovell, Argentine heavyweight, who may soon visit England and Sweden.

No Action Prompted By Vets' Housing Camp

Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—A group of discouraged home-seeking veterans broke camp today after acknowledging their 20-day tent bivouac on the Broome county courthouse lawn failed to win the support they hoped for in their protest of housing conditions.

The veterans who vowed to remain until "something is done" when they began the encampment August 2 but struck their tents because, their leader said, of diminishing interest on the part of other veterans, inclement weather and sickness.

Dewey Inspects Lake As Recreation Site

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Governor Dewey interrupted his two-day upstate tour of three central New York counties today with an unscheduled inspection of Onondaga Lake near here to assist local officials attempting to rid the lake of pollution and improve its recreational facilities.

The Governor, who declared the Tuesday primary election expressed the "extraordinary confidence" of the voters in the Republican party, was to set out early by motor launch with Mayors Frank J. Costello of Syracuse and Michael Heid of Liverpool.

The inspection began a day in which the Governor also was to address a luncheon in Penn Yan sponsored by Yates county G.O.P. leaders, attend the Yates county fair and appear at a picnic at Watkins Glen given by the Schuyler county party organization.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. When these people pass about a pint a day, when disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pain, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent urination, sometimes with smarting and burning, sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of water tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Hospitals Are Hit Severely by Shortage of Nurses

By ARLENE WOLF (AP Newsfeatures Writer)

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Two of every three hospitals in the country have been hit by a shortage of nurses. Many have been forced to leave beds empty, close down entire wings, and in some cases, shut operating rooms.

In New York city alone, 1,253 beds are empty because there aren't enough nurses to go around. Michigan could use another 4,000 women in white. The picture is pretty much like that over the country, with an estimated 485,000 nurses needed, and 300,000 available.

It's an oversupply of patients, rather than a sudden flop in the number of nurses ready for duty that's to blame, says Mary M. Roberts, editor of the American Journal of Nursing.

At the moment, Miss Roberts says, there are about 300,000 registered nurses available, less some 16,000 still in the services. Five years ago, the figure was 290,000 nurses. Compare those figures with the hospital's patient lists—the American Hospital Association estimates an increase of 220,544 patients admitted in 1945 over the 1944 tally—and it begins to be apparent why there aren't enough nurses.

Rising hospital lists do not mean that the national health is taking a turn for the worse, Miss Roberts explains. They mean just that people are going to hospitals more willingly, and in greater numbers. Here are her reasons for the increase:

1. Large additions to the membership lists of group hospitalization plans mean that more people are going to hospitals for illnesses that formerly would have been treated at home. The Blue Cross plan alone has some 23,000,000 members now, compared with less than 2,000,000 in 1937.

2. The high birth rate and the government's emergency maternity and infant care (E.M.I.C.) program has sent maternity ward figures "way up. Births in 1944, for example, were 705,484 above 1940.

3. Wartime advances in scientific medicine, and the establishment of such hospital divisions as nutrition departments, has brought more patients into the hospitals.

4. Doctors find it increasingly easier to take care of their patients in hospitals instead of at home.

5. People aren't afraid of hospitals any more. As a matter of fact, "they sometimes welcome the hospital as a place to relax in."

New Oil-Base Spray Is Deadly to Jap Beetles

A new oil-base spray, Shell Vapona D-42, developed by the Shell Oil Company, Inc., to combat Japanese beetles and other pests which menace American agriculture, proved remarkably effective when tested August 3 on a 10-acre beetle-infested corn field in Rappahannock, near Baltimore, Md., Shell entomologists announced today.

The test field is part of the 1,800-acre Nottingham Farm owned by Guy Campbell, of Towson, Md. Twenty minutes after the field was sprayed by airplane with the new pest-fighter, J. Wheeler Eisor, assistant county agricultural extension agent for Baltimore county, who witnessed the test, counted 42 dead Japanese beetles in one area of approximately two square yards.

In corroborating this testimony,

R. D. Hoopes, supervisor of the farm, said: "Beetles were dropping from the stalks throughout the day. As you walked through the corn, they made a noise like falling raindrops."

Four days later, the spray was still active, despite torrential rains in the intervening period, the company declared. Live beetles still present in the corn showed evidence of partial paralysis. It was stated, and a considerable number of dying beetles were picked off the ground.

Containing DDT in a special oil base, the new spray differs from similar sprays in that it is non-injurious to plant life, according to the Shell announcement. The company also declared its new product is superior to dusts and water-borne sprays because it covers and wets the plants and insects much more effectively and is not readily removed by rain.

The Nottingham Farm was selected for the test because its field corn was so heavily infested with Japanese beetles. Before spraying, it was estimated there were 15 beetles on each ear of corn.

The sprayed corn will not be used for silage. Instead, after husking some of the corn stover will be fed to a cow and several pigs to determine whether or not the DDT mixture has a harmful reaction on animals, according to supervisor Hoopes. He described the spray as the most rapid, lasting and economical treatment of Japanese beetles he has ever encountered. He said he intends to keep an accurate check on progress of the sprayed corn as compared with untreated corn in an adjoining unsprayed control patch which is still heavily infested with beetles.

Withdrawal of Troops

Singapore, Aug. 22 (AP)—A British military spokesman said today that present plans called for the withdrawal of all British forces from the Netherlands East Indies by November 30.

Health for All

Summer Complaint

Mothers are inclined to dread baby's second summer because of the disease commonly called "summer complaint."

Summer complaint, or infant diarrhea, is most apt to attack children between one and two years of age and it is peculiar to hot weather. It is very serious and annually costs the lives of many young children.

The disease makes the baby's bowels move frequently and it may cause vomiting. It is often accompanied by pain and fever. One of several things may cause infant diarrhea. Probably the most frequent cause is impure milk or water, or spoiled food.

The child has greater difficulty in digesting food in hot weather and if he eats anything which is even slightly tainted it may create a poison which his system attempts to throw off and diarrhea results. Nature should be assisted, not hampered, in the effort to get rid of the poison. This means that the child should not be given any food at all during the attack. Only water, which has been previously boiled, should be given him. Food, including milk, may cause a further upset and must be withheld.

Of course, great care should be exercised at all times to protect the child's food and milk from contamination. It is particularly important, however, to be on the alert in the summer when food is more apt to spoil than in cool weather.

Since milk is often the cause of summer complaint, the mother should be very careful to give the child only milk which is free from all harmful bacteria. The safest thing, after "the child is weaned, is to use pasteurized milk. If this cannot be obtained, then the mother should boil the milk herself and permit it to cool in containers which have been thoroughly cleansed and sterilized.

Food spoilage can usually be prevented if cooked food is properly stored in the refrigerator. If adequate refrigeration is not available, food should be prepared in small quantities, sufficient to meet immediate needs only. All food should be protected from flies and other insects. Utensils and dishes in which the baby's food is prepared and served should be absolutely clean. The mother should wash her hands carefully before preparing food and feeding the baby.

Summer complaint may clear up in 24 hours if the baby has proper care. The safest policy is to consult the doctor at the first signs of diarrhea and follow his advice exactly.

In the next article, Understanding the TB Patient, will be discussed.

Estonia Refugees Find No Liberty Under Nazis, Reds

Miami, Fla., Aug. 22 (AP)—Denied the right to land on American soil, 18 sea-going refugees, including a pretty five-year-old girl, from the little republic of Estonia, remained aboard their 35-foot sloop in Biscayne Bay here today.

Without a valid immigration permit in the group, it appeared that they would have to push on after replenishing their supplies. The little ship, which depends on sail almost entirely for power, reached Miami yesterday after a voyage from Sweden that lasted almost three months.

Included in the group besides the little yellow-haired girl are 11 men and six wives.

"We had hoped we could stay," said Felix Tandere, skipper and navigator of the Sloop Inarda. "I believe we could have been good Americans. I don't know where we will be, but it won't be back to Estonia."

He said the group fled to Sweden during the German occupation of their native land. "We lived under both German and Russia rule . . . there is no choice between those two . . . liberty has left Estonia."

Try Polio Vaccine On Chimpanzees At Johns Hopkins

Baltimore, Aug. 22 (AP)—A vaccine against poliomyelitis may one of these days be found at the John Hopkins Hospital and, if so, a group of chimpanzees, serving as guinea pigs, will share in the credit.

Year-long experiments on six chimps were disclosed today. Definite results are not expected for another 12 or 14 months, but Dr. Howard A. Howe said the experiments thus far tend to establish that chimpanzees once infected with the crippling disease are resistant to it the second time.

He declined to give particulars of his findings until further studies are made—and they are now at a temporary standstill. The six original chimps are so immune they no longer are useful research subjects.

Dr. Howe and his associates are waiting for a new set after taking time out to find a "suitable" home for one chimp to which they had become particularly attached during the year of experiments. The others were turned over to an animal dealer for sale to zoos.

Has Two Front Ends On Car 'For Heck of It'

Chicago, Aug. 22 (AP)—Pet. Charles Breed guaranteed against back seat drivers by building an auto with two front ends.

Breed, 19, of Paw Paw, Mich., made his mechanical monstrosity by slicing in half two 1929 Model A Fords and welding both front ends together.

Each end is complete with a hood, windshield, headlights and steering wheel. There is only one engine at present but Breed plans to install another so he can go in either direction.

"I made it just for the heck of it," Breed said after driving the car to Chicago. "It might prove popular though. It eliminates back seat drivers."

Elissa Landi Returns To Woodstock Playhouse In Next Week's Play

For his final offering of the summer at the Woodstock Playhouse, Michael Linenthal will present Elissa Landi in George Bernard Shaw's classic comedy, "Candida." Beginning Tuesday evening, the play will continue for one week.

This will be a return engagement for Miss Landi at the playhouse. Mr. Linenthal presented her earlier in the summer in "The Damask Chalk."

"Candida" is one of the favorite vehicles of such stars as Katherine Cornell and Jane Cowl. Few plays can offer such smart dialogue, interesting situations, and sharp characterizations.

Supporting Miss Landi will be Robert Gail, also director of the play, Michael Six, Louis Clair, Louis Edmonds and introducing to Woodstock audiences for the first time, Rose Stedman in the role of Burgess.

This will be the 11th and final presentation of the Woodstock Playhouse.

Security Council Confronted With Possible Showdown

Big Five, which Russia thrice invoked in the Spanish case, may well prove the deciding factor should the Yugoslav case come before the council.

Special Session

Should the United States fail to receive a satisfactory reply from Belgrade within 48 hours after the ultimatum is delivered in the Yugoslav capital, the American government is expected to ask the president of the Security Council, Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, to call a special session of the council.

The American delegation could ask for a hearing after the customary three-day interval or could plead urgency and demand a session at once.

Lange could disagree with the idea of emergency or with presentation of the subject itself, which, according to one authoritative source, would open the way for a council debate on procedure.

This source said the rules are somewhat vague on procedure, for the situation is unprecedented in the brief history of the council, which has never been called into emergency session.

Council members had expected to meet early next week in the normal course of events. They had their last open session 15 days ago and a closed meeting last Friday.

The council's next scheduled business is the discussion of applications of nine nations asking for membership in U. N. These were screened and reported upon by the membership committee two days ago.

The differences between Russia and the Western powers have been reflected in the consideration of these applicants—mostly small nations which would add their voices to the present 51-nation general assembly and could have little or no immediately vital effect in the great decisions.

The World Today

By GLENN BABB
(AP Foreign News Analyst)

A resumption of full scale warfare appears imminent in Manchuria, that unhappy cockpit of the Orient. The Chinese Communists hold most of the country and appear determined to stay. The Nationalists, thus far held to the railways and cities of the southern tip, show equal determination to regain this rich territory, withheld from them by a succession of invaders for the last 15 years. Manchuria is the prize most worth fighting for in eastern Asia, despite the disbanding by the Russians of the best part of the great military industrial plant built up there by the Japanese.

Few parts of the world have seen more of war and its results than Manchuria since the beginning of the century. There the Russians fought the Japanese, the Japanese fought the Chinese, the Chinese fought one another in a series of civil wars of which that now in progress promises to be the bitterest. More years of misery for the patient peasants who make up nearly all its 38,000,000 population are in prospect.

Manchuria the Site of War

Unless some near miracle halts China's civil strife it is logical that Manchuria should be the main battlefield. The fortunes of war in the last days of Japan's imperialist adventure opened it to the Communist armies, who came in from the west while the Russians from the north were securing their one-week victory over the crumbling pride of Japan's war machine, the Kwantung Army. Whether they received Russian aid or not—a point in dispute—the fact remains that when the Red Army was withdrawn to Siberia circumstances were such that the Communists remained in possession, in stronger force and with better arms and equipment than anywhere else in China.

Now, as proof of their determination to remain, the Communists have announced from their present capital in Xenan the establishment of their own government of Manchuria—The Provisional Supreme Administration for Democratic Manchuria, made up of 86 elected delegates from all sections and dedicated to founding "a peaceful, prosperous Manchuria by uniting all."

Fight to Last

Every consideration dictates that the Chinese Communists should fight to the last to hold Manchuria and strive to make it the foundation of a Chinese Communist state. There, with Communist Russia at their backs, they might have some chance to found a state of their own, which, however, would have little chance of remaining outside the Soviet orbit. It is a far more attractive homeland than the arid plains of Shensi, where they have lived since the great migration of a decade ago from south China, or the semi-deserts of the inner Mongolian provinces into which they have expanded since Japan's fall left a military vacuum there.

Relations between the Chinese Communists and Moscow remain pretty much a mystery to the outside world. But if the Communists hold on in Manchuria it is inevitable that a fast community of interest should be established. Although Moscow in the year-old Russian-Chinese treaty promised to give aid to China only through the National Government—apparently disavowing the Communists—other parts of that agreement make it impossible for them not to have close dealings with the Communists—provided the latter can stick in Manchuria. The railway agreement, for example, made the main trunk railways of that territory—the former Chinese Eastern and South Manchuria Lines—a joint enterprise. With most of the mileage of those lines in Communist possession the Russians must deal with the Communists if they are to enjoy their rights of ownership and exploitation. And it would be very surprising indeed if such partnership should not become much more extensive and close.

Forms and Data Obtainable by Vets At the Red Cross

Local Red Cross headquarters at 237 Fair street, now has full instructions concerning terminal leave pay for veterans of World War 2. It was announced today by Mrs. Ethel K. Wood, home service director of the Ulster county chapter.

"The recent information now available at the Red Cross," stated Mrs. Wood, "supersedes earlier War Department instructions. We have the necessary forms and information and are prepared to aid veterans in filling out their terminal leave pay forms."

The goiter belt, where the iodine in soil and water is low, is located around the Great Lakes and the Northwestern States.

Repairing Strand, Traffic Is Halted To Ponckhockie

Traffic over the Strand to the Ponckhockie section of the city is now halted as the Board of Public Works is busy laying a crushed stone foundation on which will be laid a permanent top.

Several weeks ago the work of laying the new top on the Strand from Hasbrouck avenue to the ferry terminal was completed, and now the work of rebuilding the street has been extended with the men working today along that stretch of the street where the Cornell Shops and the city's sewage disposal plant are situated.

Bus Re-routed

While the street is shut off to traffic as work is progressing, the Hasbrouck avenue bus line during the day is operating through Delaware avenue to Ponckhockie, instead of the usual route through the Strand.

During the evening hours, however, it has been possible for the bus line to resume service on the route from the top of the Hasbrouck avenue hill to the Strand and through the Strand to Ponckhockie.

he declared, "for reports that we are going back to widespread black markets."

"I hope packers will devote a substantial part of their energy to making reconrol work—at least as much as they devoted to trying to get rid of controls."

Meat ceilings, Porter announced, will be restored first on live animals, effective August 29, and at other distribution levels on this staggered basis.

At packing houses, September

1; wholesale, September 3; retail, September 9.

This plan was substituted for general reconrol beginning Friday in order to "clear out over-relying meat" which dealers have on hand, Porter said.

The drive to prevent black markets will begin as soon as controls go back on producer sales. Porter said that by next month O.P.A. plans to have 2,500 investigators—"twice as many as we ever had before"—checking on meat transactions.

The price chief commended the reconrol board for a "thoroughly competent" job, but he said:

"I would have to be less than candid if I did not express disappointment that the board was unable to find a basis for reconrol of dairy products."

Capacity House Expected for Decker-Virgilio Feature Tonight

DiMaggio, Stirnweiss Coming for Brooklyn Game September 3

Seven-Bout Card Is Scheduled for Broadway Arena

Supporting Bill Promises Plenty of Action for B'nai B'rith Show: First Bout 9 P.M.

Tonight's first indoor boxing show since B'nai B'rith moved to the municipal stadium for a series of summer open air attractions is expected to pack to overflowing the municipal auditorium, where the re-match between Carmine Virgilio and George "Babyface" Decker will highlight the seven-bout card. Starting time is 9 o'clock.

Dr. Saul Goldfarb, chairman of the organization's boxing committee, said the outlook was bright for a full house at the Broadway arena, after hearing a report from Dr. Murray Greene on advance ticket sales.

Local fans have been awaiting the Virgilio-Decker return ever since the Schenectady half-heavy master boxer outpointed the rough and ready Poughkeepsie bantamweight way back on one of the programs promoted by B'nai B'rith.

Decker, under the direction of Chick Ivanni, the handler who developed Marjory Servo, welterweight champion of the world, seems to be the favorite tonight. Fans who admire his boxing ability are certain he can run up No. 2 victory over Virgilio.

Poughkeepsians in the corner of the rugged little man with the flailing fists from their city are banking on Virgilio to even the score. They point to his win over Jackie Thompson as the basis for their contention. Decker lost to the smart little Buffalo bantam in Kingston.

Stellar Semi-Windup

Although the Decker-Virgilio match occupies top position on tonight's card, the semi-windup promises plenty of action. Tony Burrone of Schenectady and Joe Frasca, two welterweights are paired in this skirmish.

Burrone, also of the Ivanni stable in Schenectady, proved he's one of the best welterweights in the country by beating Clarence Alleyne, New York's national Golden Gloves champion twice in a row, once in Kingston and then in Troy. He is a power puncher and a seasoned ringman.

Frasca, under the direction of Tony Storace of Rome, whose amateur welter crown in 1939, has a brilliant record. He copped the 145-pound title while with the army in New Guinea. Frasca worked with Fritz Zivic, who won fame as pro battler, while he was in the service. "Burrone is a good scrapper, but he'll have his hands full when he meets my boy," Storace told a reporter.

Supporting Bouts
Other bouts: Five rounds—Barney Taylor, 130, Utica, vs. Johnny Rowland, Albany; Herbie Eaton, 132, Rome, vs. Eddie Flagg, Albany. Three rounds—Mickey Starr, 112, Poughkeepsie, vs. Sammy Spadaro, Albany; Don DeCesar, 140, Schenectady, vs. Harold Decker, Albany; Nick Kupnick, 155, Newburgh, vs. John Glass, Albany. The first prelim goes on at 9 p. m. Ringside seats may be ordered by phoning Kingston 5018.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Buffalo Arturo Godoy, 207½, Chlo, outpointed Cyclone Williams 280½. Buffalo, 10.

Providence, R. I.—Tippy Larkin, 147½, Gardfield, N. J., outpointed Bobby McIntyre, 145½. Detroit, 10.

Port Ewen Wins

Port Ewen continued its bid for second half honors in the Federation League Tuesday night by scoring a 2 to 1 victory over the First Dutch sodas, Bill Ferguson and Owen Ten Brock formed the winning battery while Doug Mothers and Chick Steketee worked for the Dutchmen. Chuck Yanni, former third baseman of the Kingston Receptions, will make a return visit to Kingston next Monday night when he leads his City League All-Star team of Albany in an allright contest against the Kingston All-Stars. The game will be played under the lights at municipal stadium and game time is scheduled for 9 o'clock sharp. Yanni was a big favorite here before the war and his presence is expected to bring a good crowd of his followers out to the uptown ball orchard. The local All-Star team will be made up of players who played here a few weeks ago against West Point.

Rees Slaughter Stars, 21 to 8; Gentile, Bambara Clout Homers

Winners Chalk Up Easy Conquest Before 1,330 Fans; N. Y. Police Here Saturday

The argued supremacy of the Kingston Recreation baseball club over City League All-Star players was well answered at municipal stadium Wednesday night and after nine innings of play, the 1,330 cash customers went home without a doubt in mind after Manager Joe Hoffman's club had slugged out a crushing 21 to 8 victory.

Taking the field minus several selected All-Star players, the City Leaguers saw the roof fall in on them in the very first inning and after that stanza it was just a question of what the final outcome would be.

Use Five Hurlers

Dick Fitzgerald, the slow ball artist, started for the Rees and worked until the seventh when Bill Thomas took over. Fitz, whose slow stuff appeared to be drifting into the plate on an appetizing platter, was touched for all of the seven All-Star hits.

Manager Ed Murphy called on five hurlers, including himself, in an attempt to quell the hungry Rees but it was all in vain. Tommy Fisher, Bob Bush, Ed Albright, Murphy and Paul Misove took turns on the mound and were cuffed for a total of 18 base knocks, including homers by Johnny Gentile and Frank Bambara.

Joe Wahl, Johnny Gentile, Dick Fitzgerald and Bambara paced the Receptions to the easy victory. Wahl and Gentile clubbed out four hits apiece, Fitzgerald picked up three while Bambara collected two.

The Rees landed on starting pitcher Fisher for a couple of hits and three runs in the first. The Grunewald entry settled down and pitched good ball in the second and third but fell apart at the seams in the fourth when the Rees sent 16 batters to the plate as 11 runs rushed across the plate.

Bush Is Wild

The ball proved to be of no use on the hill last night when Bush was in to relieve Fisher. He walked the first three batters to face him and his exist was made possible when Bambara clouted a long homer to right. Johnny Gentile poked out the first round-tripper off Fisher in the hectic fourth with the bags loaded. Wahl's single after Gentile's whack, sent Fisher to the refreshing showers.

After the big fourth the Rees added two more in the fifth, one in the sixth and a cluster of four in the eighth. George Padon's double touched off the fireworks in the eighth. Fitzgerald was reached for a single tally in the fourth on a walk and a brace of errors by Corregan and Bambara. Singles by Jess Shultz, Link Crosby, Al Vogt, a triple by Buddy Hughes and a walk, sandwiched in with an infield error, gave the All-Stars three more in the fifth. The All-Stars wound up their scoring with each in the seventh and eighth. The final two runs came across off Thomas without the aid of a hit.

Press Box Jottings

Sentiment expressed throughout the stands and benches before game time favored the All-Stars despite the fact that several "name" players were not in uniform. The matter of difference in not being paid turned out to be the reason why some All-Stars failed to appear with Manager Ed Murphy's club. Charlie Broadhead, ardent supporter of sports in this city, voiced his opinion of the so-called "jumpers" and appeared to be quite surprised at their actions. Charlie has been around a long time and should know of what he speaks.

drawn-out attempt to get the pack of local players to meet the Rees was thus somewhat snatched by "boyish" attitudes but to the City League representatives who did stick to the cause, our hats are off to them 100%.

Paul Misove and Buddy Zoller were on the coaching lines for the Stars while Manager Hoffman and Bill Thomas did the honors for the Rees. Thomas moved into right field when Billy Ostrom left the brawl and later came on to relieve Fitzgerald.

Many of the fans and scribbles alike were wondering just how slow Fitz was tossing them up. Some of his slow stuff was a little bit uncatchable. After all the score was bad enough without making it very intentional that the Rees were out to "give" the Stars a few runs and hits.

Paul Misove raised the tie of All-Star partisans when he called Padon safe in the first. The starter ruled that Vogt's foot did not touch the infield sack.

Tommy Corrine, Star shortstop, pitched a bang-up game at his position. George Gasser pulled off a trick double play last on a double around the bases when he grabbed up the grounders, tossed the bag and threw fast to Vogt for the twin-killing.

SCOREBOARD

By JOE REICHLER (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have been chasing the Brooklyn Dodgers practically from the start of the season, might be occupying the top spot in the National League today were it not for former teammates now with rival clubs.

Ex-Mate Backfires

The last ex-Card to help subdue his former teammates is St. Johnson, 38-year-old pitcher of the Boston Braves, who wore a St. Louis uniform from 1936 through 1938.

The veteran right-hander turned back the Cardinals 4-3 last night under the lights at St. Louis. The defeat pushed the Cards back a game and a half to the pace-setting Dodgers who whipped the last place Pittsburgh Pirates 8-2 in the afternoon.

Johnson joins a host of other ex-Cards who have been directly responsible for St. Louis losses this season. Mort Cooper, Johnson's pitching mate, owns two triumphs over the Cards and pitchers Harry Gumpert of Cincinnati and Al Jurisich of the Phillies have one victory apiece.

Oscar Judd, a former member of the Card organization and now with the Phils, has beaten them three times while Pittsburgh's Fritz Ostermuller has done it twice and the Phils' Ken Raffensberger once.

Among the batsmen, Walker Cooper, sold by St. Louis to the New York Giants for $175,000 last winter, twice hammered home runs to beat his former mates. Johnny Mize and Buddy Blattner, also of the Giants, each beat the Cards this year with four-base knocks, as did Carden Gillenwater and Johnny Hopp, both now with the Braves.

Rebounding from their shutout defeat at the hands of the Pirates Tuesday night, the Dodgers landed on left-hander Ken Heintzleman and his two successors for 11 hits, three by Dixie Walker, to defeat the cardinals 6-0.

Joe Hatten, although issuing six walks and tagged for eight turn out for the contest. Game time is 9 o'clock and Billy Ostrom is scheduled to pitch.

B'nai B'rith Wins

B'nai B'rith scored a hard-fought 7 to 6 victory over the Kingston A. C. at Loughran Park Wednesday night. J. Gruberg and J. Miller worked for the winners while Sickles and Ellsworth of the losing battery, Knopke and Sickler cracked out homers.

Third Yankee Star Also Will Appear At Uptown Stadium

Fred Davi Is Responsible for Obtaining Major Leaguers; DiMaggio to Throw Out First Ball

Jolting Joe DiMaggio, great centerfielder of the New York Yankees, and George "Snuffy" Stirnweiss, currently the second best base stealer in the American League, have been obtained by Fred Davi to appear as guests of the Kingston Athletic Association at the scheduled allright game between the Brooklyn All-Stars and a picked team representing the K.A.A. at municipal stadium Tuesday, September 3.

JOE DIMAGGIO

After days of negotiations with the Yankees in New York, Washington, Philadelphia and Boston, Davi made a welcomed appearance in the stadium press box last night during the All-Star-Receptions game and announced that both DiMaggio and Stirnweiss had definitely told him that they would be here for the game. "Both of the boys are anxious to come up," Fred exclaimed, "and DiMaggio will throw out the first ball."

Davi's unending spirit to acquire big league color at this contest was brought to light at a meeting of the K.A.A. Tuesday night. At the time he was still in New York talking to Yankee players. Last night Fred told the scribers that the K.A

Fair Street Dumps Baptists, 5 to 4

Decker's Triple Provides Necessary Punch

Capitalizing on Al Hunt's wildness and ragged defensive play by the First Baptists, the Fair Street softies overcame a run deficit Tuesday night to eke out a 5 to 4 victory at Hasbrouck Park. The loss put the Baptists practically out of the running for second half honors in the Federation Softball League. Al Decker provided the winning punch for Fair Street by lacing out a triple down the leftfield foul line with two men aboard. Although Hunt allowed only five hits to the winners he was in hot water constantly with his control. He issued nine free tickets for the seven inning affair. Poor defensive play led to his defeat in the final frame. Fleming pitched for Fair Street and gave up eight hits and four walks. Home runs were clouted by Ted Brooks of the Baptists and Fleming of Fair Street. Score by innings: Baptists 201 001 0-4 8 3 Fair Street 000 201 2-5 5 1 Batteries—Hunt and Sonnenberg; Fleming and Schultz.

Gridiron Dodgers Are Enroute Home

Meet New York Yankees On Coast Saturday

Spokane, Aug. 22 (AP)—Brooklyn's football Dodgers, 33 strong, arrived here today by chartered plane from their Portland, Ore., training site for Saturday's exhibition game with the New York Yankees at Gonzaga Stadium. Dr. Mal Stevens, head coach of the Dodger entry in the new All-America Conference, said the Brooks would run from a single wing and short punt formation with occasional flankers to utilize the passing talents of gangly Glenn Dobbs, the former Tulsa star. The Dodgers, who battled the Chicago Rockets to a 14-14 tie last Sunday in Portland, will leave for Bear Mountain, N. Y., following Saturday's game, Stevens said.

Channel Attempt Off

Dover, England, Aug. 22 (AP)—

The attempt of Jorge Berroeta, 28-year-old Chilean, to swim the English Channel was canceled early today because of a high wind and rough, cold water. The Santiago business man said he planned to try it again.

Leadership by Farm Families Seen as Need

Ithaca, N. Y., Aug. 22—Too many farm families have a tendency to underestimate their position in the community and thus fail to take part in community affairs, according to W. A. Anderson of Cornell's Agricultural Experiment Station.

"If people in our society," he said today, "accept inferiority and therefore do not participate and leadership, the democratic process will have difficulty operating."

The Cornell sociologist cited information found in studies of 344 families in a typical rural county in New York State. These families rated themselves on their participation in community organizations and on their leadership in these organizations. Fifty-nine per cent rated themselves in the lowest possible grouping on participation. Even more, 69 per cent gave themselves the low score on leadership in the community.

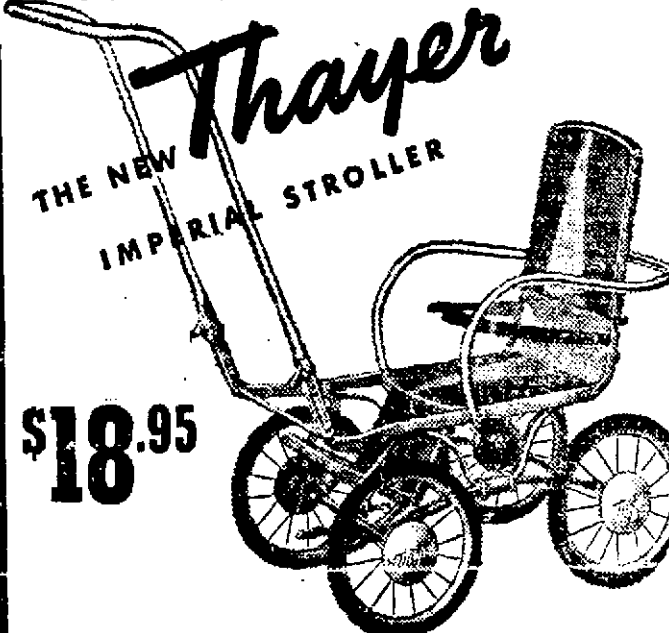

"This," Anderson says, "means that the community or the organization interested in getting more people to participate not only has the problem of getting them to take part, but may have to help them overcome the habit of regarding themselves as inferior to other families in the community."

The same studies show that participation is more or less a family trait. If some members of a family are active in community affairs, other members tend to take part also.

Barron Engages Nelson Today in P.G.A. Tourney

Recent Tam O'Shanter
Champion Meets His Old
Teacher in Third
Round Match

By GAIL FOWLER
Portland, Ore., Aug. 22 (AP)—Herman Barron, who has taken a lot of golf lessons from Byron Nelson the last two years, was doctored for a stiff mid-term test today with the Portland Golf Club outdoor classroom.

All student Herman has to do is play teacher Byron in a 36-hole third round match in the current National Professional Golfers' Association championship.

"I've played in a lot of medal tournaments with 'by' but this is the first time I've ever had to meet him in match play," said Barron, recent Tam O'Shanter open winner from White Plains, N. Y.

Barron moved yesterday by defeating Ed Vines of San Francisco, 6 and 5. In the afternoon Barron eliminated Fay Coleman of Los Angeles, 3 and 2, after Coleman had advanced with a 20th hole 1-up win over favored Herman Koster of Akron, O.

But all Barron's opponent of today—defending champion Nelson—was not an easy task. He took over undisputed possession of first place in the Freeman Bowling League Tuesday night at the Central Rec. lanes. Team 3 captured two important decisions over Team 2 which is now in a two-way tie for second place.

Hartman's huffy three-tymer was put together on scores of 215, 180 and 151. Roland Post, anchor for the losers, cracked out a sizzling 574 triple with a 224 single, but despite his efforts, Team 2 dropped the two games.

Team 1 dropped Team 4 further into the cellar by taking two victories. Pearson paced the winners with a 438 series while Tom LaPolt banged out a 437 for Team 4.

McSpaden took an easy 4 and 3 win from Charles Harmon of Jackson, Mich., but was carried to the 20th green before he eliminated "Barber" Bob Hamilton of Chicago, the 1944 P.G.A. champ, 1 up.

Lake Katrine Gun Club Fireworks Display on Sunday

A mammoth fireworks display, hailed by officials of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club and Ulster Hose No. 5 as the "biggest display in this locality in the past 100 years" will be staged Sunday, September 1, at 9 p. m. at the Kingston-Ulster Airport.

Authority for the statement is the renowned pyrotechnic expert, Louis Cosenza, of Ulster Landing, who has fired all the major displays in the Hudson Valley during the past 20 years.

Mr. Cosenza fired the recent fireworks display sponsored by the Exposit American Legion and thousands of Kingstonians said it was the finest they had ever witnessed.

"The war brought out many new stunts and fireworks," Mr. Cosenza said, "and looking over the collection for September 1, I can honestly say it will be the greatest show I have ever fired."

Proceeds of the fireworks will be shared by the building fund of Ulster Hose No. 5 and the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club.

The Kingston-Ulster Airport is located at the Albany avenue extension off Route 9-W.

Budapest Has Problem
Only one-quarter of the buildings in Budapest, Hungary, remained intact after the war and to restore previous housing capacity presents a major problem. It will be necessary to repair 18,636 seriously-damaged dwellings and build 1,191 entirely new houses to replace those destroyed.

Population density in Japan is placed at 2,750 per square mile of arable land.

Saboteurs Blow Hole in British Troopship at Haifa

By EDWARD CURTIS
Jerusalem, Aug. 22 (AP)—Swimming saboteurs using limpet mines blew a hole eight feet long and three feet wide below the waterline of the British troopship Empire Royal in Haifa Bay shortly before midnight last night, but failed to sink her, the government announced today.

The announcement came only a short time after British troops moved into the all Jewish city of Tel Aviv and four other towns in Palestine in the wake of new Jewish underground threats of violence.

Three swimmers were observed around the stern of the ship and the military guard aboard opened fire on them, though apparently without effect," the announcement said, in describing the attempt to sink the Empire Royal, which had just returned from transporting a second load of illegal Jewish refugees to Cyprus.

"Approximately a half hour later two explosions took place and the after hold of the Empire Royal began to fill with water. The bulkheads which had been closed held and the next hold remained clear of water."

After an investigation by divers the 7,045-ton vessel moved into shallow water under her own power. No immigrants were aboard at the time and no casualties were reported among crew members.

Military and police sources expressed belief that the attack was staged by Hagana's Palmach, the striking force of that Jewish underground organization and advanced the theory that it had been carried out "as a gesture to show military it could be done."

Identity Check
Meanwhile, the military conducted a spot identity check in several quarters of Jerusalem before noon today, throwing up roadblocks of barbed wire manned by Bren gun carriers. Traffic was jammed on several streets while soldiers checked identities and searched cars.

The roadblocks were moved a place every half hour or so under a new practice of making "surprise" checks.

The Haifa Harbor area was under surfeit from the early morning hours until 8 a. m., reportedly because of the imminent departure of another transport, the Empire Royal, damaged in a sabotage attempt last Saturday, for Cyprus with a load of illegal immigrants.

Tel Aviv strong forces of soldiers and police moved in shortly after midnight and all roads leading into the city were described as being jammed with military traffic, but there was no immediate explanation of what was afoot.

The towns of Peta Tiqua, Ramatgan, Batn and Rishon Le Zion also were cut off by troops.

Just before the troops entered Tel Aviv the residents on the City were thrown into a state of excitement by the accidental explosion of a boiler in a mill, causing a roaring fire which continued to burn while British patrols and mobile police units drove through the streets.

Spokesmen for the Jewish underground Jewish organization, Hagana, circulated through Tel Aviv last night warning crowds that the British were about to start new operations against the Jews, following up a broadcast Tuesday by an underground radio station that the operations would start with a "regime of the guillotine and death."

"We are prepared to meet this regime," the broadcast said.

Air-Washer Units Build Snug House

(A.P. Newsfeatures)
Atlanta, Ga.—Faced with the housing shortage, J. L. Blackshaw of 1444 Eunston street, Atlanta, has solved his individual housing problem. With an idea and some surplus aluminum he now has a home that is different from anything in these parts.

Blackshaw is manager of the Air and Manufacturing Corp. of Atlanta. The company makes air washers for the air-conditioning industry. He reasoned that air washers were insulated, strong and waterproof. The same principle could be applied to a house, make it of the same materials, and reverse it, so it could be waterproof on the outside.

Through his wife—a former Wave, he obtained a priority for materials. The aluminum he got from salvage at the Bell bomber plant, Marietta, Ga. His company manufactured the sections needed and nine of his fellow workers started the house proper.

The side walls, made in sections 4x8 feet, are bolted to steel uprights. These sections consist of a two-quarter inch thickness of plywood, a two-inch thickness of spun glass insulation between and a layer of aluminum on the outside. The floor was made of two thicknesses of heavy plywood.

Blackshaw says the cost was higher than he expected and the house definitely won't be for sale soon.

ALUMINUM, plywood and spun glass form the walls of this house.

Republicans Meet to Pick Keynoter and Chairman

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—The executive committee of the Republican state committee sat down with party chieftains today to pick a keynoter and a permanent chairman for the state convention which is expected to "draft" Governor Dewey for renomination.

Encouraged by successes in Tuesday's primaries, the Republican bigwigs conferred amid mounting speculation over the final G.O.P. choice of candidate for U. S. Senator, the only spot on the ticket apparently still wide open.

Assembly Speaker Oswald Heck of Schenectady appeared to have the inside track for the assignment as temporary convention chairman and keynoter. Mentioned most frequently for permanent chairman were Irving M. IV., of Norwich, retiring assembly majority leader and State Senator Benjamin F. Feinberg of Plattsburgh.

The executive committee session (2 p. m.), with state Republican Chairman Glen R. Bedenkapp presiding, was called to complete arrangements for the party convention September 3 and 4 at Saratoga Springs, where twice before Dewey had been nominated for governor.

In advance of the committee session, Bedenkapp predicted the convention next month would be the largest in years and added the Republican organization is "determined that the existing Republican administration be continued to the end that the Dewey program, planned so carefully and with such effectiveness, may be brought to complete fulfillment."

Pre-convention speculation that Republicans will nominate Dewey and his "first team" intact has not been squelched actively by the Republican high command.

Dewey's varsity teammates are Lt. Gov. Joe R. Hanley, Attorney General L. Nathaniel Goldstein and Comptroller Frank C. Moore. Both Goldstein and Moore have been mentioned, along with more than a dozen others, as possible senatorial nominees but now are expected to remain in the lineup unchanged.

Dewey, whom G.O.P. county leaders acknowledge will have the final word, has indicated no preference. He is expected to show his hand—privately, at least—before the convention.

The G.O.P. strategists admittedly desire to add a Catholic War Veteran to the ticket for "balance."

Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan has a number of local party committee endorsements, in various sections of the state but his cause was not helped by a State Federation of Labor blast this week calling him "anti-labor" and "anti-union."

Donovan vigorously denied the charge, declaring that the A.F.L. organization "innocently acted on false information or... you know how they are."

Other possible nominees are: Robert Diogen of Syracuse, state superintendent of insurance; Mayor Frank J. Costello of Syracuse; Lt. Gen. Hugh Drum, commander of the New York Guard; Edward J. Neary, director of the State Division of Veterans' Affairs; State Senator Frederick R. Couderd, Jr.; Edward Corsi, state industrial commissioner; and Thomas J. Curran, secretary of state, and State Senator Walter Mahoney of Buffalo.

Coudert won the G.O.P. congressional nomination for the 17th New York district in Tuesday's primary over incumbent Rep.

Joseph Clark Baldwin. Political sources reported two weeks ago that some Coudert supporters would boom him for the senatorial nomination if he defeated Baldwin.

Prices Skyrocket On Livestock

Buying Interests Leap Into the Trade Today

Chicago, Aug. 22 (AP)—All livestock buying interests leaped into the trade today with the result that prices skyrocketed $1.00 on cattle, $1 to $3 on hogs, and 75 cents to $1.75 on spring lambs. Marketed slaughter activity continued strongly with trade vessels when big packers stayed in the market and eastern buyers took most supplies. Traders attributed the overnight change in tactics to an expectation of a week more before the O.P.A. would bring livestock back under ceiling controls. Advanced prices in cattle came despite lower quality receipts than yesterday. There was nothing but strictly choice grade today, and even so, fed steers and yearlings topped at $28 and the general steer market at $19 to $26.50 on record. The highest outside price on record. All lower grade beef material, such as cows and bulls, also went 50 to 75 cents higher, and best vealers reached their highest price of the month at $19. Hogs matched their alltime price record of $21.50, set August 1, and choice lightweight sows at $22.50 were within a quarter of their peak. Although lamb trading yesterday was at a standstill, all interests went after everything they could get today and completely cleared the market on early rounds. A top of $20 was paid by a packer and was back up to the best level of the last 10 days.

Jersey Milk Conference

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 21 (AP)—Arthur F. Foran, state director of milk control, today called a hearing September 11 to discuss costs of production, processing and distribution of milk in New Jersey. Price control on milk reverted to the state this week when the federal decontrol board removed dairy products from O.P.A. control. Foran invited producers, consumers, dealers, subdealers, storekeepers and public officials to the hearing to offer testimony on which he will fix minimum milk prices for the state.

Grenade in School

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—A live hand grenade with the pin intact was found today in the basement of Public School 186 in Brooklyn by the custodian, Jerry Hogan. Hogan found the grenade as he was cleaning and walked 10 blocks with it in his hand to turn it over to police at the Bath Beach station. A police radio car carried it another 12 blocks to an isolated section of Gravesend Bay where it was placed in a pile of oil pending examination by police bomb experts. There was no explanation as to how it might have been left in the school.

Gets Year on Treasure

Singapore, Aug. 22 (AP)—A British army spokesman said today Capt. J. B. D. Williams had been cashiered and sentenced to a year at hard labor by a court martial investigating the disappearance of the $24,000,000 Nakamura treasure, which the Japanese looted in the Dutch East Indies. Williams was assistant provost marshal of Batavia and a member of the British army's special investigating branch. Testimony showed Williams received a box of gold trinkets, that he turned in part of the gold to the provost marshal and that the remainder was discovered in his room, the army spokesman said.

Six Injured in Crash

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Six persons were injured today when an Eighth Avenue bus and a truck collided at Varick and Wall streets and the bus crashed into a building on the corner. The accident occurred near one of the Holland Tunnel approaches and police were busy for half an hour straightening out snarled traffic.

British Women Are Happy Rationing to End

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—John Bull's wife and daughters received good news today: Clothing may come off the ration list soon.

Visions of that long delayed new dress, maybe even a pair of smart new shoes, sweetened the feminine half of the country after John Bull's parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, told a news conference: "I hope that we shall very speedily reach the position where we can supply the home market without any (clothing) ration."

This meant more to the women than the simultaneous announcement that the value of Britain's exports reached $367,600,000 in July, the highest monthly total since the war ended and 20 per cent above the 1938 monthly average.

Women now have an average of 40 clothing coupons a year and practically everything wearable is rationed. A wool dress takes 10 points, handkerchiefs cost a point apiece.

Men get the same number of coupons but the man who can keep his wife from "borrowing" them has not been discovered.

Bugle Calls Nuisance To Academy Neighbors

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 22 (AP)—Claiming that their sleep is "continually disturbed" by bugle calls, martial music and the rolling of drums at nearby Eastern Military Academy, three residents of Stamford's fashionable Shippan today sought injunctive relief in superior court here. The actions assert that the plaintiffs and their families "cannot occupy their homes in peace and comfort, are aroused from their sleep and have their Sunday peace and relaxation prevented and disturbed" by the "nuisances complained of."

E. Gynor Brenman, academy legal counsel commented that "it is regrettable that these suits were timed to be filed during the enrollment of students at the academy."

Stocks Break Sharply In Today's Market

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Stocks broke sharply in today's market following renewed weakness of American Telephone Common which tumbled about $12 to a 1946 low in the wake of the company's huge financing program.

Steels, motors, rubbers and assorted "blue chips" fell $1 to $5 and, for an interval, liquidation was so heavy that the high speed ticker tape was two minutes behind actual floor transactions. There were subsequent slowdowns and extreme losses were reduced. Brokers attributed the slump partly to the threatening foreign situation, wage-price problems and the recent refusal of the market to respond to favorable business news. Bonds and commodities retreated.

Vet, 104, Wants Bike To Ride to Movies

West Palm Beach, Fla., Aug. 22 (AP)—Lewis W. (Dad) Brown, who was considered too small (4 feet 6 inches) and too puny (98 pounds) to fight in the Civil War, complained on his 104th birthday today that one trip a month to the movies isn't enough.

"I don't get enough exercise," he said. "I could ride a bicycle, if I had one."

His nurse, Miss Freda Kirk, didn't agree. She recalled that an early morning walk to town last winter put Dad to bed for three days.

The diminutive patriarch from Ashe county, N. C., held court on the nursing home's lawn, and found life good.

"It is always this pleasant," he observed, "I'd just as lief stay on for awhile."

Where Fleet Will Visit

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—The U. S. Naval force headed by the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt will visit Gibraltar, Naples, Malta and Tangier on its Mediterranean cruise. A spokesman for Admiral H. Kent Hewitt, commander of U. S. Naval forces in Europe, said this announcement today was intended to "clear up confusion" stemming from rumors that the fleet might visit Trieste and Palestine. Most elements of the task force—engaged in what is officially described as a "training and good will tour"—reached Gibraltar today.

Turned Over for Spying

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 22 (AP)—The U. S. Army said today that a Russian secret police agent, Mrs. Lena Herz-Krupenko, had spent nearly a year spying in the American zone of occupation. She was turned over to liaison officers of the Russian Army in Frankfurt today. The Russian woman posed as a German and a doctor in order to obtain an U.N.R.R.A. job, the announcement said. She was said to have confessed to faking identity papers for others, presumably agents, and reporting regularly to her "N.K.V.D. superiors" on the political attitude of displaced persons in American camps.

Rail Strike Is Called for L. I. Road Tomorrow

members of other rail unions to respect District 50's picket lines and possibly strike in sympathy.

Told to Keep Away
The notices also directed that "all men remain off the property during the strike" and added that "all railroad workers respecting our picket lines will be protected."

Ross Foran, mediator of the National Mediation Board, was scheduled to confer with railroad officials at the Pennsylvania Station sometime today. He failed, however, to arrive at 11 a. m. the originally scheduled time for the conference and had not put in appearance at noon.

Reached at the Hotel Pennsylvania during the forenoon, he repeated the substance of a statement he made last night that he had offered the mediation board's services in an arbitration to both parties.

"If either or both sides refuse arbitration, a 30-day cooling off period sets in," Mr. Foran said. "That is the act."

He referred to the railway labor act. Some 1,100 brakemen and ticket collectors, represented by District 50, A.F.L. United Mine Workers, have been ordered to quit work at 12:01 a. m. tomorrow.

The government action, announced by Ross Foran of the national mediation board, brought into operation terms of the railway act providing for arbitration of disputed issues or observance of a 30-day cooling off period. It followed an announcement late yesterday in Newark, N. J., by William Dalrymple, regional director of District 50, that "as far as I am concerned, the strike order still stands, whether the government seizes the railroad or appoints a fact-finding board."

Declaring that mediation efforts had failed, Foran proffered to both sides the arbitration services of the national mediation board. He explained the railway act provides that if either side rejected the offer of arbitration, then the cooling-off period automatically comes into effect and both sides are required to maintain the status quo for 30 days.

But no penalties are provided under the act if a strike becomes effective during that time.

Yugoslavs Aren't Anxious for War, Not Barbarians

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—A Yugoslav news executive said today Marshal Tito's government might reject the United States ultimatum because "it would be a good thing for us to have the whole thing thrashed out before the Security Council."

"That would prove we are not wild barbarians as the Americans seem to think," said Milivoj Sijic, supervisor of the official Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug.

"We have done no wrong and we have no desire to bring disaster to any Americans, either individually or collectively."

"The last thing the Yugoslavs want is another war," he said.

The Yugoslav's office is connected by direct telephone with the Yugoslav embassy here. He said he had "no direct word" from Belgrade today.

British Hand Rejection Notice to Representative

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—The British Foreign Office said today it handed the Soviet representative late yesterday a rejection of Russian proposals for a share with Turkey in the future defense and control of the Dardanelles.

The United States, France and Turkey received copies. Contents of the note will not be published immediately.

A spokesman said the United Kingdom supported the United States proposal for an international conference of signers of the Montreux Convention controlling the Black Sea entrance. He said the British view was that the United States should replace Japan, a Montreux signor, at such a conference.

Desperate for Homes

London, Aug. 22 (AP)—Twenty homeless men and women, some with babies in arms—burst into a camp for German war prisoners near Hereford last night and took possession of 10 vacant huts after overpowering a British Army guard. Three hundred German war prisoners billeted in other buildings slept through the disturbance—latest episode in a nationwide invasion of government property by desperate "squatters" seeking a solution of Britain's acute housing problem.

Remain for Night

Tokyo, Aug. 22 (AP)—Six women members of the Japanese House of Representatives refused to walk unescorted through Tokyo's dark streets after the House ended a protracted session last night. They spent the night in the Diet's women's sleeping on sofas and chairs.

T. A. Murray Elected

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Thomas A. Murray of New York city today was elected president of the New York State Federation of Labor, and Harold C. Hanover, Buffalo, was named secretary-treasurer. John A. Walsh, Yonkers, was elected a vice president.

that the issue has a capital importance for the Greek people." He said a formal state of war still existed between Greece and Albania.

Albanian Premier Enver Hoxha, a close associate of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, tried "to create false impressions" in his speech before a conference committee yesterday. Tsaldaris declared.

Brazil asked the conference to prepare a "just peace" with Italy, saying that otherwise "posterity will judge us with severity."

At the same time a proposed amendment to the Italian treaty preamble was made public which will be moved by China on behalf of Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China and the Netherlands.

An Italian memorandum had criticized omission in the preamble of any mention of the role of Italian Partisans in the overthrow of the Fascists "under the pressure of military events." The amendment would change this to read "in consequence of the victories of the Allied forces and with the assistance of the democratic elements of the Italian people."

Iraq, through her Minister Tahir Kadry, asked to be admitted to the conference to give her views on the peace treaty with Italy.

Australia proposed that the conference appoint a special commission to investigate the Venezia Giulia border dispute between Yugoslavia and Italy, declaring the factual basis for recommendations of the foreign Minister Council "has not been made clear."

Sues Motorist for Fire Loss by Running Over Horse

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 22 (AP)—Superior court attaches today described as "unusual and interesting in its allegations" a suit in which a Norwalk woman driver is asked to pay damages based on an alleged Sayville, L. I. fire loss.

Beatrice C. Bourne of Sayville charges that while firemen were combating a blaze at her home on May 29, 1945, Mrs. Claire Simmons of Norwalk drove her car over horse lines in such a manner as to hamper the efforts of the firemen to extinguish the flames.

She alleges that a $7,529.74 fire loss resulted and asks a judgment in that amount against Mrs. Simmons and her husband, G. O. Simmons, Jr.

Planes Return Home

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Aug. 22 (AP)—Fourteen planes of Squadron 35, Royal Air Force Bomber Command, which visited this country for the past month on "Operation Good Will," left today for their home base at Gravelly, Hereford, England. The planes are due late today at Gander, Bay, Newfoundland, and will reach England August 28. "Operation Good Will" arrived at Mitchell Field July 17 and visited New York city, St. Louis, Denver, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Calif., San Antonio, Tex., Andrews Field, D. C., and Westover Field, Mass.

Not Enough Progress

Marriage to White Woman All Right For Father Divine

Negro Who Complains Is Reprimanded; Judge Informs Him Union Legal

New York, Aug. 22 (AP)—Wonderful Love, supported by some 150 other followers of Father Divine, went into court today to press a disorderly conduct summons against a man who she said demanded to know why Father Divine married a white woman.

When the case was called before Magistrate Raphael Koenig, the entire delegation stood, and Lovine Willingheart, a white woman, and four other followers of Divine, walked to the bench.

Wonderful Love, a negro member of the cult, told the court John Wallace, negro superintendent of the building where she conducts a tailor shop, entered her store and asked why Father Divine married a white woman.

"He said he used to like Father Divine, but no more," Wonderful Love told the court. "He persisted in demanding why Father Divine married a white woman. He created a disturbance, insisting that he wanted to know why Father Divine married a white woman."

Wallace told the court the only thing he did was to ask the question. While the questioning continued the standees kept whispering, occasionally saying aloud "Peace, it's wonderful."

Magistrate Koenig told Wallace "this marriage is perfectly legal and it's none of your business, and unless you stay away from this woman I will take a complaint against you."

He dismissed the case and the delegation went into the street chanting "Peace, it's wonderful."

Wac Is Arraigned For Hesse Family Jewel Theft Today

Frankfurt, Germany, Aug. 22 (AP)—A stern-faced court martial arraigned Wac Capt. Kathleen B. Nash Durant today in the $1,500,000 theft of the Hesse family jewels from Kronberg castle.

The 43-year-old Phoenix, Ariz., woman is accused of larceny, embezzlement, conspiracy and absence without leave.

Her lawyer, Lt. Col. John S. Dwinell, told the court Mrs. Durant had asked and been denied permission to make her detained husband, Col. Jack W. Durant, her special defense counsel.

Durant, 36, who married the defendant shortly before the bulk of the jewels was discovered in the United States, is awaiting trial in the same case, but has not been formally charged.

Mrs. Durant, the former army manager of Kronberg Castle, whence the dazzling collection of jewels was stolen last November, said with her lawyer through the preliminary legal skirmishes. She looked white and drawn. All the insignia and decorations had been removed from her Wac uniform.

PAY AS YOU RIDE

A small down payment and 8 monthly payments buys auto insurance, if you want credit. You need insurance to avoid trouble and possible loss of your driver's license.

For $5.00 you can buy $1,100 fire insurance on furniture in a dwelling in Kingston for 3 years. The policy also covers up to $110 in any place outside the home.

What if someone falls on your sidewalk or is injured on your premises? $5 a year insures a private home against such claims.

Plate glass insurance does not cost much. Ask for an estimate.

I have a monthly payment plan which enables business men to pay insurance premiums out of income. It's a confidential, convenient insurance service.
